Drowning of an 18-year-old Greenwich youth in a private lake near Kent late yesterday brought to 42 the total of Ohio deaths directly or indirectly caused by the week-old heat wave which forecasters said would definitely break today.

The forecast for Ohio was showers and cooler and while temperatures in Mansfield again rose to the 90 mark for the eighth successive day western and southern cities reported precipitate drops in temperature readings.

At 2 p. m. the thermometer spurted up to 95.

Victim of the Kent drowning was Ray Eikleberry, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Eikleberry who live in Greenwich just over the Huron county line, north of Mansfield.

Eikleberry, who had recently gone to work on the Harry Newman dairy farm near Kent, was swimming with two companions, Wilburt Morgan, 20, and Milton Burton, 21, in a private lake on the William Hill farm five miles north of Kent when he was seized with cramps and died shortly after 7 p. m.

Couldn't Reach Him.

Morgan and Burton said Eikleberry was attempting to swim across the lake when they heard him call for help. June Hill, 15, who was standing on the shore, ran for help. The two young men said they were unable to reach Eikleberry in time to assist him and that they were unable to locate his body after it had gone down.

Members of the Hill family called the Kent fire department and firemen, assisted by state highway patrolmen and Sheriff Robert Fitzgerald, dragged the lake from 9:30 until 2 a. m. when the body was recovered.

The body was removed to a Kent funeral home where ar-

Vandals Destroy Oven Erected By Parks Association

The South Park-Maple Lake association today asked police for added vigilance to guard against vandalism at Maple Lake.

Gordon Schwan, president of the association told officers yesterday afternoon that vandals had visited the park Wednesday evening and wrecked an outdoor oven, erected by the association only three weeks ago.

It was pointed out that the park commission had employed park policemen for the other city parks to guard against such acts, but that Maple lake, recently rehabilitated, had not yet received the services of a custodian.

Instructions were given second and third shift officers to patrol the vicinity of the lake to protect the park property.

Drives Two Weeks With Body In Car

Husband Admits Slaying of Common Law Wife With Ax Blows.

LOS ANGELES —INS— Ralph W. Griggs, 45, a mechanic, was held on a charge of murder today after confessing he killed his common-law wife with an ax and then carried the body in the back of his car for two weeks while he drove aimlessly about.

The woman was said to be Gladys Long, 36.

Griggs' arrest came after he had been trapped by a parking lot attendant and had been confronted with the body of the woman wrapped in a quilt and stuffed in the rumble seat of his car.

Officers said Griggs was too dazed to tell them where the slaying took place.

Wanted To Leave.

"I did it because she wanted to leave me," the thin, baldish man told police.

From his rambling story officers said they learned he apparently killed the woman about two weeks ago at a camp near Victorville, not far from Los Angeles.

"I was chopping wood," officers quoted him as saying. "So when she said she was leaving me, I hit her in the head."

His story sent detectives to a Lon Angeles apartment house where they learned the couple had been living in common-law marriage for about a year until July 10, when they left with all their possessions.

Police could not get a complete story of the slaying because Griggs remained in a dazed condition.

He did not elaborate on his statement other than explaining that he had struck the woman with the ax while he was chopping wood at the camp.

Following their visit to the apartment house, detectives set out to attempt to learn more about the life of the pair. Griggs remained in jail awaiting possible first degree murder charges.

Mansfield Man Gets 30 Days In Columbus Auto Death.

Doyle Minard, 30, Mansfield roofing worker, received a 30-day jail sentence and $100 fine with costs in Columbus today for the hit-run automobile death of Charles Matheny, 74, on July 11.

Minard's driving rights were revoked for one year.

An original charge of second degree manslaughter against Minard was reduced to failure to stop after an accident charge when he was arraigned before Judge John Matthias.

Minard's car struck and killed Matheny on a Columbus neighborhood street and Minard was arrested in his hotel room a few hours later. Judge Matthias said the evidence did not substantiate a manslaughter charge.

Charges against Edgar Rennick, 27, Worthington, who was riding with Minard when the accident happened, were dismissed.

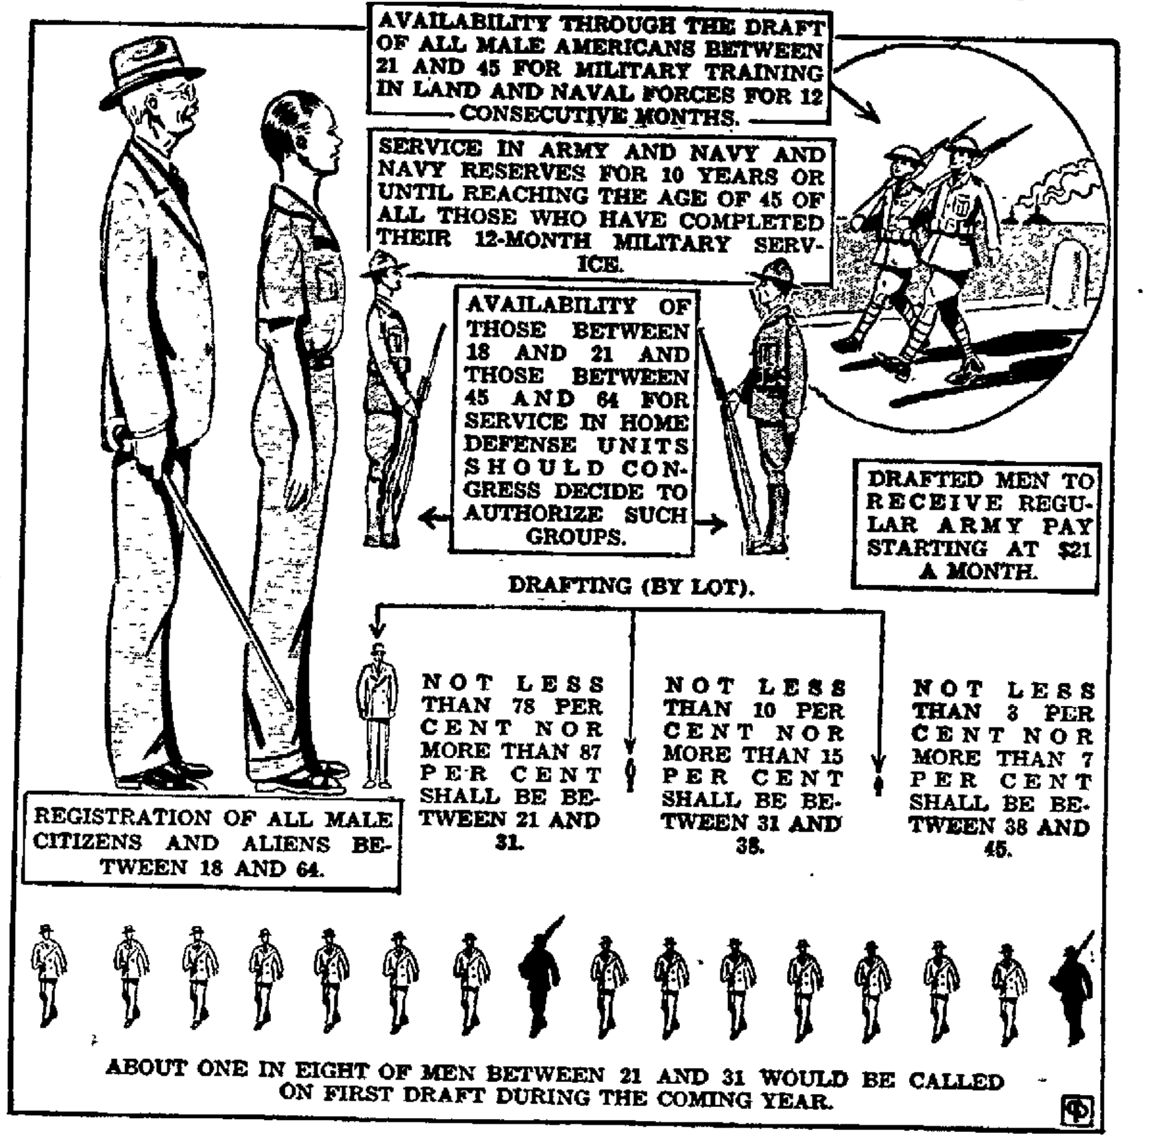
Plan to Put Young Americans In Army



AVAILABILITY THROUGH THE DRAFT OF ALL MALE AMERICANS BETWEEN 21 AND 45 FOR MILITARY TRAINING IN LAND AND NAVAL FORCES FOR 12 CONSECUTIVE MONTHS.
SERVICE IN ARMY AND NAVY AND NAVY RESERVES FOR 10 YEARS OR UNTIL REACHING THE AGE OF 45 OF ALL THOSE WHO HAVE COMPLETED THEIR 12-MONTH MILITARY SERVICE.
AVAILABILITY OF THOSE BETWEEN 18 AND 21 AND THOSE BETWEEN 45 AND 64 FOR SERVICE IN HOME DEFENSE UNITS SHOULD CONGRESS DECIDE TO AUTHORIZE SUCH GROUPS.
DRAFTED MEN TO RECEIVE REGULAR ARMY PAY STARTING AT $21 A MONTH.
DRAFTING (BY LOT).
REGISTRATION OF ALL MALE CITIZENS AND ALIENS BETWEEN 18 AND 64.
NOT LESS THAN 78 PER CENT NOR MORE THAN 87 PER CENT SHALL BE BETWEEN 21 AND 31.
NOT LESS THAN 10 PER CENT NOR MORE THAN 15 PER CENT SHALL BE BETWEEN 31 AND 38.
NOT LESS THAN 3 PER CENT NOR MORE THAN 7 PER CENT SHALL BE BETWEEN 38 AND 45.

ABOUT ONE IN EIGHT OF MEN BETWEEN 21 AND 31 WOULD BE CALLED ON FIRST DRAFT DURING THE COMING YEAR.

If the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill, which is awaiting congressional action, is passed, approximately 42,000,000 men, citizens and aliens alike, between the ages of 18 and 64, soon will go to the polls to register. Those between 21 and 45 would be liable for military training while those in the other age groups would be liable for training for home defense units. Under present plans, 1,500,000 men, at least 78 per cent of them between 21 and 31, would be drafted for a year's military training at army bases. Exempted would be high government officials, senators and representatives, state legislators, federal court justices, clergymen, members of some religious sects and men whose jobs are essential to national defense needs. Single men with dependents and married men would be granted deferment and probably would not be called at all in time of peace, high officers of the army told congressional committees.

OIL INDUSTRY SAVES STOCKS

Prepared to Co-operate With Government in National Defense Program.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The oil industry today disclosed plans for a government-sponsored campaign to build up stocks of high octane aviation gasoline, vital in time of war.

The announcement came as the National Petroleum association pledged full cooperation in maintaining the newly-instituted government policy of keeping American petroleum and petroleum products out of the hands of the warring totalitarian powers—Germany, Italy and Japan.

President Roosevelt yesterday added petroleum, petroleum produsts and scrap iron to the list of "basic materials of war" over which the government, under a recent act of congress, is exercising export control. At the same

First Ohio Draft Hits One In 28

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — One out of every 28 Ohio men between the ages of 21 and 31 are expected to be drafted if the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill now before congress is enacted into law.

Ohio national guard officials estimated that Ohio would furnish 20,000 of the 400,000 men which the army and navy plans to conscript for training starting Oct. 1 if the legislation is approved. It was estimated there were 565,324 Ohioans between 21 and 31.

The 20,000, Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light explained, would be chosen according to population. For example, Akron and Summit county would be called upon to furnish approximately 1,000 men, since Summit county has

2 Youths, Suspects in Robber Gang Activities, Bound Over In Columbus Court.

Two members of an alleged hold-up gang rounded up here last week by city and county authorities were held in the Franklin county jail today awaiting jury action on armed robbery charges.

They are John E. Symsick, 20, of 212 Coul street, and Norman McNeely, 19, of 83 McPherson street, who were arrested with six other companions by Detectives Lee J. Remy and Oscar Krupp and Sheriff E. P. Long.

They were said to have confessed to holding up three central Ohio filling stations and burglarizing four others during the past six weeks.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Jesse Evans in Franklin county this morning, McNeely and Symsick waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the

ARGENTINIAN HOLDOUT HITS HAVANA TALKS

Takes Determined Stand In Opposition to General Commitments.

(By Associated Press)

HAVANA — Argentina was a "holdout today against proposals before the conference of the 21 American republics for pan American trusteeship over European possessions in the western hemisphere.

The southern nation took a determined stand against any general commitments or immediate measures, asserting it was impossible to delegate powers in anticipation of "hypothetical situations.

Instead, Argentina recommended use of regular diplomatic channels for consultation and rapid application of measures which might be required for defense of the Americas in any situation that might arise.

Leopoldo Melo, head of the Argentine delegation, declared last night the future status of the foreign possessions should be determined by the people involved, without outside pressure—even if they agreed to transfer to another non-American power — and that delegates from these possessions should be heard at the conference.

Argentina cannot countenance the application of force over American territory "even in the guise of treaties or conventions effected among the Americas," Melo said.

Whether the other nations, including the United States, would proceed without Argentina on the "collective trusteeships" idea—advanced by the United States, Brazil and other republics—appeared to depend largely on the decision of Secretary of State Cordell Hll.

Faced with an Argentine threat to unity of the 21 republics at the Lima conference in 1938 ,Hull waited for a compromise which brought the declaration of Lima—of pan American solidarity against foreign aggression—by unanimous vote.

Apparently, however, some opposition was anticipated in drafting the trusteeship proposal, since it contained a provision that only those nations ratifying it would participate in the projected temporary control over colonies threatened with a change of sovereignty to another European power.

An apparent factor in the Argentine decision was a desire to avoid any action which might prejudice her future trade relations with European countries, where a major part of her exports went before the war.

WON'T BE LONG

Bike Licenses to Arrive In City Soon, Crafton Told.

Well, it won't be long now, kids! Those bicycle licenses the city ordered several weeks ago are expected early next week.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton today received a letter from the manufacturer who said the 1,000 miniature tags had been shipped July 17.

Crafton said the licenses, which will sell for 25 cents, will go on sale the latter part of the week.

He added, however, that ample notice will be given bicycle owners as to the date set for the sale. He has suggested that different days be set aside for bicycle owners from different sections of the city to obtain their tags.

Say 28 German Planes Bagged In Record Day

Nazis Continue Daylight Raids, Surging Over England In Repeated Waves; Bombing Casualties Reported Small; Balkan Talks Start.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(AP)—The German high command announced today that 15 merchant ships totalling 63,000 tons were destroyed by German warplanes in raids on British shipping lanes yesterday.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—The admiralty acknowledged today that a German plane and torpedoboat attack yesterday on a 21-ship convoy in the English channel sank five and damaged five merchantmen and two British destroyers.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Nazi planes surged over the United Kingdom again today despite the toll taken by anti-aircraft fire and combat craft in the almost continuous British-German air war.

Britain counted 28 raiders shot down yesterday by her defenders.

One German bomber, hotly pursued by British fighters, jettisoned its bomb load over a southeast England town today. The explosives caused some casualties and damaged several houses.

In southwest England this morning a German bomber was shot down and three crewmen killed. An English farmer dashed out and captured the pilot.

British pursuit-planes chased off a flight of Nazi raiders winging over a southeast English area.

German planes were reported over various southwest England localities and a town in Wales reported the drone of enemy planes overhead but no bombs were dropped there.

The air ministry and the ministry of home security issued a communique saying that "in an attack on a town on the southeast coast this morning enemy aircraft destroyed some houses and damaged others. The casualties were small. One person was killed."

It was confirmed officially that a total of 28 German planes was shot down yesterday for a new day's record.

"Full reports of yesterday's operations have confirmed that five more enemy aircraft were accounted for by our fighters" the communique added. "Making a total of 28 enemy aircraft shot down during the day.

"Early this morning an enemy bomber was shot in the southwest of England."

"Slight enemy activity" was reported last night over southeast and southwest England and Wales, and some bombs were dropped near a town in East Anglia, but no damage was reported from any area, the air ministry and the ministry of home security said.

It was the second successive night of lulls in aerial activity—attributed the previous night to unfavorable weather—and the

JAPS HALT U. S. TRADE IN CHINA

Report Says Japanese Impose Curb After American Action on Oil, Iron Licensing.

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI — Coincident with U. S. action licensing all oil and scrap iron exports it was reported today that Japanese restrictions had halted all activities of American traders in North China.

As a result of Japanese pressure British authorities were reported to have ordered the United States Marine radio station at Tienesin closed effective Aug. 20.

Since the trade restrictions at Tientsin went into effect June 25, Japanese have issued no permits to import American goods and Americans said all signs pointed to a freeze-out of American business in North China similar to that which occurred when Japan took over Manchoukuo. These sources said the new restrictions were being enforced in such a manner as to exclude all but officially needed imports, which were being diverted into the hands of Japanese dealers.

As a result, American exporters are unable to obtain foreign exchange to cover their shipments to the United States.

Nazis Put Blame On British for Ship's Sinking

BERLIN —(U.P.)— Germany admitted today the sinking of the French steamship Meknes, with 1,300 French officers and soldiers and sailors aboard, but blamed it on Great Britain.

The official news agency, reporting the sinking, after several denials had been issued, said: "The British government alone is responsible," saying that the German government had received no request for safe conduct and no notification of the ship's sailing with Frenchmen who desired to return to France.

In accordance with British orders, the official agency said, French ships whose crews place themselves in British service must sail under the French flag, and the German government had already informed the French government that merchant ships sailing under the Frech flag would be sunk as enemy craft unless safe conduct was arranged.

CITY NEWS' foursome reduced the lead held by the Junior Association of Commerce team in The News-Journal Class "B" league by scoring a lopsided 5 to 0 victory over the Tinkey Lumbers yesterday at Possum Run.

Now in top position by two lone markers, the Junior Association of Commerce outfit bowed to the Elks club foursome, 3 to 2.

The City News' attack was led by Fay and Walters, who paced off the nine holes under the 40-mark. Fay netted a 37, just one above par, while Walters chalked up a 38.

The two City News lads led the low-scorers in last night's fracas. The only other player in the league to threaten Fay and Walters was Treisch of the Tinkeys who managed an even 40 for the nine holes.

Tucker Furnitures and the Central Fruit clubs also gained on the JAC's by chalking up victories. The Tuckers took over the News-Journals, 3 to 2, while the Central Fruit team came out on the right end of a 3 to 2 tally with the Bissman company team.

The Class 'A' and 'B' league will play postponed matches at Possum Run today. The 'A' leagues starting at 3 p. m. and the 'B' group playing at 5:30 p. m.

Softball's Reaching New Peak

Undefeated Hermans Are Reason; Why Doesn't City Support Braves?

By CHARLES MARTIN

SOFTBALL interest is reaching a new peak in Mansfield sports circles this year and the series between the unbeaten Sons of Herman and Mansfield Wrecking All-Stars for city championship is creating considerable rivalry.

Manager Frank Beeber of the Hermans and Nick Wagner, who will pilot the All-Stars, have made statements that their respective team will walk off with the honors . . . but followers of the Hermans believe it'll be an easy task for their favorites.

The Hermans, incidentally, have strengthened their roster for the district softball tournament opening at Elyria Aug. 12. . . . Nick Weber, shortstop, and Al Stickler, rover, will be with the team after the city series.

If the Hermans survive the district classic they will journey to Massillon to participate in the State tourney which opens Aug. 23. Last year the Hermans, playing under the DeLuxe Cab banner, reached the finals of the State meet at Columbus.

DAIRYMEN AT LOUDONVILLE

Isaly Dairy's softball combine will travel to Loudonville to clash with the Loudonville Dairy outfit at 6 p. m. today. The Dairymen are requested to meet at the Isaly plant at 5:30 p. m. today.

Team Home Today

Seigbert Secures Lone Hit; Drewek Holds Fremont To Three Bingles.

OUR BRAVES are holding third place in the Ohio State league title race by a two-and-a-half game margin today following a 2 to 1 whipping the fourth-place Green Sox handed them at Fremont last night.

Mansfield had splendid pitching, but the club couldn't solve the slants of Pitcher DeFrance. The Braves were held to one hit while Fremont collected three off Tony Drewek.

Manager Dewey Stover will send Everett Stenman to the hill against the Fremont combine before a "Ladies' night" gathering at the Fairground under the arcs at 8:30 p. m. today.

Harry Siegbert, Brave firstbaseman, robbed DeFrance of a no-hitter with a single in the seventh inning when the Mansfield team scored its lone marker.

That tally enabled the Braves to hold the lead for a while, but Fremont came back in their half of the stanza with the two tallies that won the game.

Until the clubs went into the seventh it was a no-hit contest. Siegbert single sent Howard Beals home with the first run. A walk, coupled with Gerken's double and Lance's single were responsible for the winner's two markers.

Neither moundsman was in trouble the rest of the game and it was one of the finest pitching duels staged in the circuit this season. It marks the second time Mansfield has been held to one hit. Ed Evans of Lima accomplished the feat a couple of weeks ago.

* * *

Tonight's settos at the Fairground marks the last appearance of the Braves in their home park until Monday when they meet Tiffin in a double header. After the Tiffin games the club will be on the road until Aug. 6 because of the Richland county fair which starts Wednesday, July 31, at the Fair park.

It Looks Like Mad River Is Best Spot for Trout Fishing

By ROBERT OLDS

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Angles for anglers: It looks like the upper end of Mad river will be the best spot for trout fishing in the future in the Buckeye state.

The lower section of Ohio's only public trout stream are causing no end of trouble and there are indications that the section upon which greatest emphasis will be place by the state conservation division is that from West Liberty to Zanesville in Logan county.

However, the law is on the statute books. The officers have viewed with suspicion the large number of violators who offer this alibi. They believe that one member of a family may go out fishing with the badge while another takes the paper license.

When is a walleyed pike not a walleye? T. H. Langlois, chief of the conservation division's bureau of fish management and propagation, says that when you're fishing in clear water, for example, the Muskingum river, the fish you'll catch is the pike.

But the fish which you snag in muddy rivers like the lower Scioto is the walleye's almost identical cousin, the sauger.

On Lake Erie the fishermen catch the walleyed in clear weather and the sauger when the water is rolly.

Even in hatcheries, fish aren't safe from the natural enemies which would attack them in lakes and rivers. George Perry, of the Newtown state hatchery, says that his ponds have an unusually large quota of dragon flies.

Fans Wondering If Wreckers' All-Stars Can Defeat Hermans

Speculation Running High on Outcome of Series For City Softball Crown.

By CHARLES MARTIN

SPECULATION is running high in Mansfield softball circles today as to whether the Mansfield Wrecking company All-Stars will be able to halt the undefeated Sons of Herman in a series for the city championship.

Although the All-Star squad will include some of the outstanding players in this district fans are wondering if they will be able to play together as a unit against the powerful Hermans.

With fans showing considerable interest in selecting a combine which they hope will be capable of halting the Hermans, the five-game series should develop into a hectic affair.

Manager Frank Beeber's crack outfit is roaring along on a 12-game winning streak and he and his players are positive that the series will not go more than three games.

Meanwhile, with some of the finest pitching talent in the Y. M. C. A. leagues available, the All-Stars and their manager, Nick Wagner, believe it'll be a different story.

Votes are still pouring in, and among the top-notch players sure to see service are Dick Henshaw, catcher; Bob Lapine and Dale McKinley, righthand hurlers; Nick Weber, Bob Boyd, Bob Woerth and Tom Farrell, infielders; Al Stickler and Pete Schadek, rovers; and Garner Judy, Ed Channel and Al Kinney, outfielders.

Lapine, Mansfield Wreckers' mound ace, and McKinley, Alta Lumber strikeout king, are waging a battle for the starting assignment. Lapine has 223 votes and McKinley 217. "Stub" Winebrenner of the Tinkey Lumbers appears to have won the third berth on the mound corps.

Fans choice for the best infielder is between Weber of the Mansfield Wreckers and Boyd of the Alta Lumbers. At present Weber has 190 votes and Boyd 181.

Don't forget, you still have time to vote for your favorite player. A ballot appears on page 13 today and all you have to do is fill it out and mail to Dave Lapine, in care of the Mansfield Wrecking company, 585 North Main street. You have until midnight, Saturday to cast your vote.

The All-Star team will be announced in Monday's News-Journal and the squad will hold at least one practice before opening the series against the Hermans Thursday, Aug. 1. The other games are scheduled for Aug. 2, 5, 6 and 7.

A trophy will be presented the winning team. There will be no admission charge, but a collection will be taken up each night to pay for the trophy and provide funds for a banquet for the players of both teams.

Tennessee's Ace Halfback Gains Weight

Butler Expects to Be as Speedy as Last Year.

(By Associated Press)

THE Kansas City keystone combination, Rizzuto and Priddy, may be broken up after this season. Baseball rumor says Priddy may play second base for the Yankees, with Joe Gordon replacing Frank Crosetti at shortstop. The St. Louis Browns may get Rizzuto and cash if they'll let the Yankees have First Baseman George McQuinn.

Ernie Lombardi

Frank Kovacs, lanky California youngster, has perhaps the fastest tennis backhand in the country.

Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati catcher, holds his baseball bat with a golfer's interlocking grip.

Adolf Keifer, Chicago backstroke swimmer, made a habit of breaking records in 1935 and hasn't broken the habit since. The 1936 Olympic games established him as the world's best and Keifer himself doesn't know how many times he has cracked records since that year.

Tuck Stainback, outfielder formerly with the Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers, is having a fine season with Montreal of the International league and reportedly headed back to the majors.

Johnny Butler

Johnny (Gone With the Wind) Butler, Tennessee's spectacular football halfback, has put on 15 pounds since last season . . . and expects to be as speedy and elusive as ever next fall.

What's Wrong With All-Ohio World Series?

Cincinnati Looks Like An Able Defender and Indians Have Possibilities.

By JOHN FRYE

CINCINNATI—(AP)—They used to hold subway series back in the great days of the New York Giants and Yankees, there's a city series in Chicago every year—now what's the matter with an all-Ohio world series come October?

This idea was broached first around 1937 when some pre-season expert thought the Cincinnati Reds were sure-shots in the National league and that the Cleveland Indians had possibilities in the American. The Reds came in last.

With the Reds able defenders and the Indians able contenders, the tom-toms are beating this year. People are talking about it. Bobby Feller and his smoke ball against Paul Derringer and his control. Bill McKechnie matching a wit with Ol' Oscar Vitt.

As for the two teams, "Barkis is willin'." The only hitch immediately apparent to slightly prejudiced observers is the Indians' addiction to the habit of the mid-season dive, due by the calendar most any day. They are a game and a half behind Detroit now.

General Manager Warren C. Giles, soaking up last night's cool dew on his lawn while his Reds rested on an eight-game lead in the east, put the proposition bluntly and merrily:

"It's up to Cleveland now. The Reds would have to beat themselves because there's nobody left in the league to do it."

Such a series should be a financial success. The Cleveland stadium, where half the games would be played instead of the League park if there's any business sense up there, seats 78,189. The Reds' park handles about half that, which is Giles' only complaint.

"With everybody in the state doing a split between here and Cleveland," he said, "there'd be just that many more we'd have to turn away."

Meanwhile the Reds got ready for tonight's game with the Phillies in Philadelphia. Paul Derringer is the Cincinnati pitcher, against Hugh Mulcahy or Kirby Higbe.

FINDLAY ONLY ONE GAME OUT OF FIRST PLACE

FINDLAY —(AP)— Rampaging up the comeback trail, the Findlay Oilers today stood but one game from first place in the Ohio State baseball league.

The Oilers downed Lima's top-spot Pandas last night 14 to 3, snagging 16 hits off Evans and Cisco. Fremont beat Mansfield 2 to 1 in a tight pitcher's duel, while Fostoria outran Tiffin 12 to 11.

ONTARIO SEEKS GAME

Manager Harold Marshall's Ontario baseball team, a member of the North Central Ohio league, has an open date Sunday and is seeking a game with any club in this vicinity.

Nick's Place Softballers Meet Shelby Team Today.

Nick's Place softballers will entertain the Shelby McGaw Coals in a single contest at Forest Garden at 6:15 p. m. today. Manager Pete Metz announced early today that Appleman will probably handle the mound duties for Nick's with Bill Friend behind the plate.

SEMI-PRO TOURNEY NEARS END TODAY

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)—Only two games were scheduled today as the pay-off bracket neared in the Ohio Semi-pro Baseball tournament. They pitted the Troy McKaig Gardners vs. the Alcony All-Stars and the Springfield Crowell-Colliers vs. the Springfield National Supply.

The Columbus Bold Works defeated the Lancaster Hocking Glass club 9 to 6 last night, but lost the services of Secon Sacker Anelich who suffered a back injury sliding into first base.

SEEK STURGES TRAFFIC LIGHT

Property Owners to Request Council for Protection at Glessner Intersection.

When city council convenes for its monthly meeting Aug. 6, it will receive a request from property owners and residents in the First Ward seeking the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Glessner and Sturges avenues.

A petition was being circulated among residents in the vicinity of the intersection today by David Richey, 241 Sturges avenue, who said the request would be submitted to council at its next meeting.

Richey said he had already obtained 148 signatures and declared that he'd only got started.

He said property owners in the vicinity planned to back up their request for the traffic signal by personal appearances at the meeting. They plan to ask for action on the request.

Richey said he was prompted to action because of the numerous accidents at the intersection which has been built up in recent years making the intersection hazardous.

Installation of a dual light arrangement at the corner where Sturges avenue jogs across Glessner was talked about several years ago but the idea was abandoned by city officials due to the excessive cost in constructing two lights at the intersection.

HARDLY HARROWING

CHILLICOTHE, Mo.—(AP) Mrs. Cora Bryan, elevator operator, says her politest recent passenger was a very young fellow who rode to the top and back with her.

"I sure do like to ride on these cultivators," said he as he doffed his hat and strode away.

SEEK STURGES TRAFFIC LIGHT

Property Owners to Request Council for Protection at Glessner Intersection.

When city council convenes for its monthly meeting Aug. 6, it will receive a request from property owners and residents in the First Ward seeking the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Glessner and Sturges avenues.

A petition was being circulated among residents in the vicinity of the intersection today by David Richey, 241 Sturges avenue, who said the request would be submitted to council at its next meeting.

Richey said he had already obtained 148 signatures and declared that he'd only got started.

He said property owners in the vicinity planned to back up their request for the traffic signal by personal appearances at the meeting. They plan to ask for action on the request.

Richey said he was prompted to action because of the numerous accidents at the intersection which has been built up in recent years making the intersection hazardous.

Installation of a dual light arrangement at the corner where Sturges avenue jogs across Glessner was talked about several years ago but the idea was abandoned by city officials due to the excessive cost in constructing two lights at the intersection.

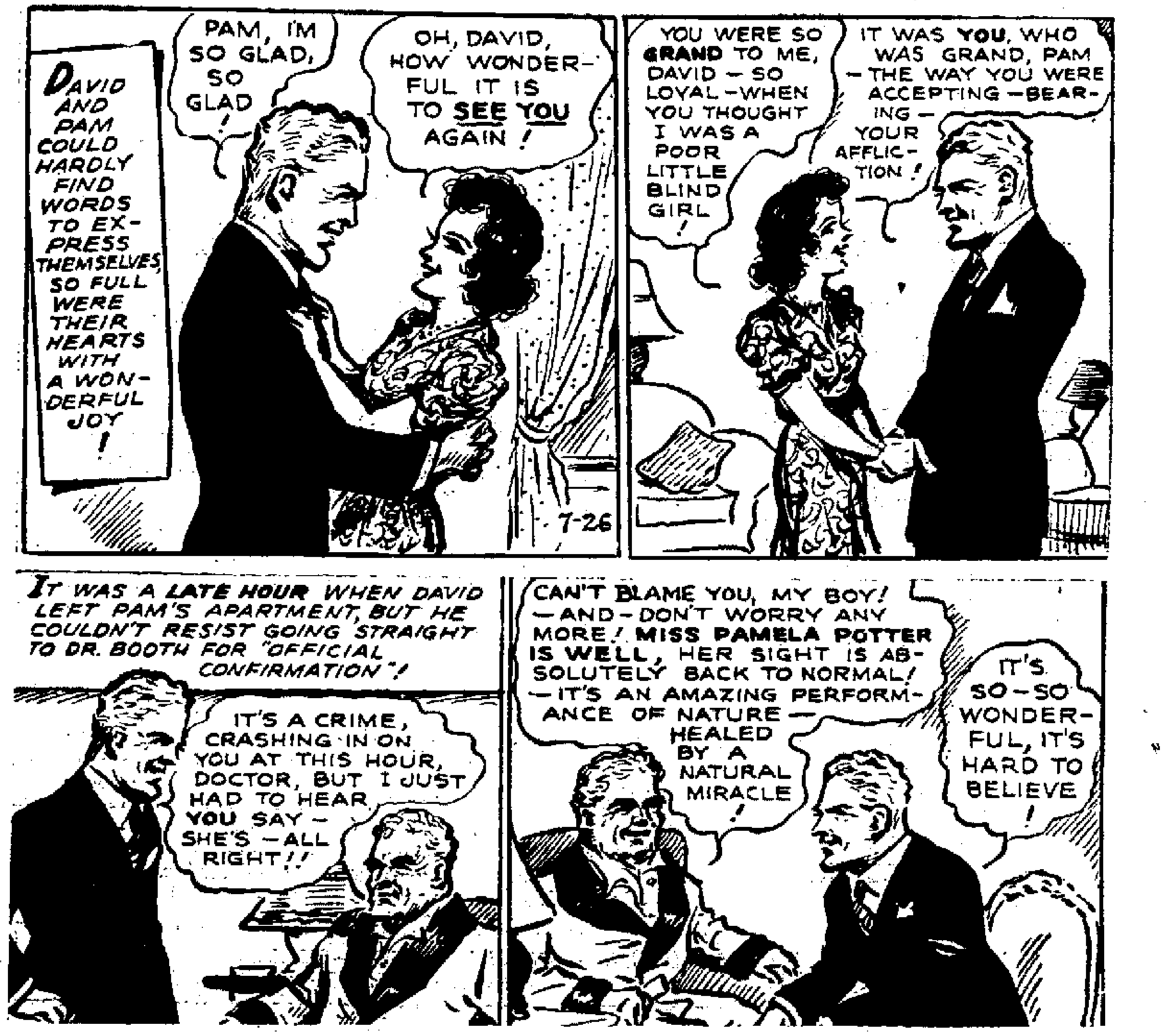
PAM— Nature's Miracle!

By A. W. Brewerton



DAVID AND PAM COULD HARDLY FIND WORDS TO EXPRESS THEMSELVES, SO FULL WERE THEIR HEARTS WITH A WONDERFUL JOY!
PAM, I'M SO GLAD, SO GLAD!
OH, DAVID, HOW WONDERFUL IT IS TO SEE YOU AGAIN!
7-26
YOU WERE SO GRAND TO ME, DAVID — SO LOYAL — WHEN YOU THOUGHT I WAS A POOR LITTLE BLIND GIRL!
IT WAS YOU, WHO WAS GRAND, PAM — THE WAY YOU WERE ACCEPTING — BEARING — YOUR AFFLICTION!
IT WAS A LATE HOUR WHEN DAVID LEFT PAM'S APARTMENT, BUT HE COULDN'T RESIST GOING STRAIGHT TO DR. BOOTH FOR "OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION"!
IT'S A CRIME, CRASHING IN ON YOU AT THIS HOUR, DOCTOR, BUT I JUST HAD TO HEAR YOU SAY — SHE'S — ALL RIGHT!!
CAN'T BLAME YOU, MY BOY! — AND — DON'T WORRY ANY MORE! MISS PAMELA POTTER IS WELL, HER SIGHT IS ABSOLUTELY BACK TO NORMAL! — IT'S AN AMAZING PERFORMANCE OF NATURE — HEALED BY A NATURAL MIRACLE!
IT'S SO — SO WONDERFUL, IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE!

MORE HOPEFUL MARKET SHOWS SIGN OF LIFE

Leading Issues Lifted When Traders Drop Fears of War Developments.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Stock market traders seemed a bit less war-fearful and more hopeful for business today, with the net result that leading issues were lifted fractions to a point or so.

A bolstering speculative factor, brokers said, was that selling had dried up to virtually nothing in recent sessions.

Bonds and commodities inclined to do better.

Stocks up at one time or another included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, United Aircraft, Sperry, Great Northern, Westinghouse, General Electric, Kennecott, Western Union, Pressed Steel Car, White Rock and Montgomery Ward.

Action of the president in curbing exports of oil and scrap metal was seen as possibly widening United States difficulties with Japan and likely to cut into profits of some companies handling these staples.

GOLD SHIPPED

Five Billion Dollar Cargo on Way to Fort Knox.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Reputed to be the most valuable cargo in history, $5,000,000,000 in gold was en route by rail today from the United States treasury assay office to Fort Knox, Kentucky, under extraordinary guard.

It was believed the shipment will pass through Ohio on the Pennsylvania railroad lines, but railroad officials declined to comment.

ELECTROCUTED

BOOK BY GIRL AUTHOR, 22, ON LIBRARY LIST

'Heart Is a Lonely Hunter' Tells of Southern Town, Racial Antagonism.

New of the list of books for summer reading at the Mansfield Public Library is the first novel by a 22-year-old girl, Carson McCullers, entitled, "The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter."

It tells the story of the lives of a group of persons in a southern town steeped in racial antagonism. Angela Thirkell has written another amusing satire on English country life, "Before Lunch," while Frantisek Kozik gives a fictionalized story of the life of Jan Kaspar Dvorjak in a book, "The Great Debureau."

One of the latest additions to the non-fiction shelves at the library is "Nemesis" by Douglas Reed, which discusses Otto Strasser, the only man with an active anti-Nazi following in Germany. Another interesting volume is a collection of Richard Halliburton's letters relating the adventures of his life.

New Fiction.

THE HEART IS A LONELY HUNTER by Carson McCullers is the first novel of a twenty-two-year-old girl. The setting is in a southern town with racial antagonism affecting the lives of nearly every character. By creating a kindly deaf mute as a sort of father-confessor for four very different people, the author unifies the story very skillfully. Mick Kelly, the tomboy; Jake Blount, an educated drunkard; Dr. Copeland, a Negro dreamer; and Biff Brannon, a restaurant owner: all find relief from their puzzling problems in association with Mr. Singer, the mute engraver.

BEFORE LUNCH by Angela Thirkell is another amusing satire on English country life and folk by the author of "The Brandons." The chief character is John Middleton, architect and autocrat, who gives himself airs as a gentleman farmer.

THE GREAT DEBUREAU by Frantisek Kozik is a fictionalized account of the life of Jean Gaspard Debureau (whose real name was Jan Kaspar Dvorjak). A Bohemian pantomime actor, he delighted all Paris at the beginning of the 19th century, and won Napoleon's favor.

Other fiction—THE WHISPERING CUP by Seeley; THE PORTRAIT OF SIRJOHN COBB, Keeler; A LION IN THE GARDEN, Stern.

The Non-Fiction List.

NEMESIS? by Douglas Reed is the story of Otto Strasser and the Black Front. Strasser is the only man with an active anti-Nazi following and organization in Germany. The book records both Otto Strasser's adventures and his political thought, taking up his life in chonological order. Reed believes that with the decline of Hitler's power Strasser may establish a new regime.

RICHARD HALLIBURTON: HIS STORY OF HIS LIFE'S ADVENTURE is composed of letters written to his mother and father. These letters date from Halliburton's childhood through his Princeton years, the travels retold in his books, his lecture tours, on through the last trip on the Chinese junk, the Sea Dragon.

THE ORCHID HUNTERS by Norman MacDonald describes a jungle adventure in which two young man set out to find quantities of orchid plants for shipment to America. They succeed and sell at a nice profit, but not without many discouraging mishaps during their journeys.

Other non-fiction: LOVE AT THE THRESHOLD: A BOOK ON DATING, ROMANCE, AND MARRIAGE by Strain; NON-VIOLENCE IN AN AGGRESSIVE WORLD, Muste; ZACA VENTURE, Beebe; HOT IRONS, Arnold & Hale; MUSIC FOR THE MULTITUDE, Harrison; THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE, Saroyan; IN CHRIST'S OWN COUNTRY, Graf; UNDER THE REDWOOD TREES, Digby; THE EMPEROR CHARLES V by Brandi; AS LONG AS THE GRASS SHALL GROW, La Farge; INDIANS OF THE UNITED STATES: FOUR CENTURIES OF THEIR HISTORY AND CULTURE, Wissler; OLD-TIME HERBS FOR NORTHERN GARDENS, Kamm; EDUCATION FOR DEMOCRACY: PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONGRESS ON EDUCATION FOR DEMOCRACY.

Books For Children

(Available at Mansfield Public Library)

Riddles and Indians are in the new books this week. Girls over ten will like these books especially, but there is no reason for boys not liking them too. There is good fun in every story in the first book and real adventure in the second.

WHISTLE FOR GOOD FORTUNE by Margery Bailey—Once a schoolboy was kept after school because he couldn't be sure whether six from six really leaves nothing. When he whistled for good fortune it came to him and proved that six from six leaves six and one to carry, and furthermore, six from one is six. If you don't believe it it would be well to read the book and then you will understand.

LITTLE WHIRLWIND by Margaret Ann Hubbard—Charity Jane MacKenzie was a pioneer girl whose parents settled along our northern border before it was really established. When the boundary was determined their home became a part of the United States and was no longer under the protection of the Hudson's Bay company. Then the family was forced to move to a Chippewa Indian camp for safety. It was in this camp that Charity received her name of Little Whirlwind and once had a chance to save the whole camp from a raid by the warring Sioux Indians.

'HAMILTON PLAN' OF NATIONAL GUARD SECURITY GAINS FAVOR

HAMILTON — (U.P.) — Patriotic-minded civic leaders have evolved the "Hamilton plan" to protect the economic security of men enrolled in the Ohio National Guard.

Forty-one local industries and the Hamilton Merchants association have contributed to a fund to reimburse guardsmen from Hamilton for any wage losses incurred while attending army maneuvers, for three weeks next month.

In addition, the guardsmen have been guaranteed return of their regular jobs when they come back from training camp.

Clarke Marion, vice president of the Champion Paper and Fiber company, has been appointed chairman of a citizens' military affairs committee by Mayor Leo Welsh.

Employers will help to give jobs to unemployed guardsmen who are recommended by their officers, according to Jack Hardin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

He said that 33 other cities in the U. S. have adopted the principles of the "Hamilton plan" for application to their own communities.

The program calls for:

Expansion of national guard units to full strength and improvement in the quality of enlistments; co-operation with the civil aeronautics authority in improvement of Hamilton's privately-owned airport; co-operation in the vocational training program for defense needs; organization of American Legion groups to work with the Federal Bureau of Investigation against subversive activities.

BOTHERED

Passport Ruling Disturbs Maine Border People.

CALAIS, Me—(U.P.)—Border residents are disturbed by the United States state department ruling which requires Canadians to carry passports after July 1. The Calais Merchants' association has protested against the increased restriction.

Both Americans and Canadians of this vicinity resent the regulation because of their close business and social ties. Calais and the New Brunswick towns of St Stephen and Milltown have common water, electric and gas supplies. Their fire departments answer each other's calls.

About half the Calais City band members live across the border. Some residents live on one side of the line and have their businesses or attend churches in Canada.

College Women Found To Earn $28.50 Weekly

PHILADELPHIA—(U.P.)—A 10-year survey of women college graduates conducted by the Philadelphia Women's University club has revealed that the majority of college trained women are earning $28.50 a week while the average hosiery worker earns $21.

A report of the survey, which was supervised by Dr. Susan Kingsbury, club president, expressed doubt regarding the economic worth of college education.

The report said that while a few women with doctor's degrees earn upward of $10,000, only eight out of every 100 ordinary college graduates earn $3,000 a year.

"The time and investment seems not to have been justified, except among those with the highest type of preparation, that is those who have obtained a doctor's degree," the report said.

Several Philadelphia educators pointed out, however, that the value of a college education should not be measured in dollars and cents.

ABDUCTION

Akron Man Under Arrest For Kidnaping Waitress.

AKRON —(U.P.)— Claude Miller, 32, was under arrest today in connection with the abduction of Mrs. Odessa Rogers, 20-year-old waitress.

Miller was charged with kidnaping and operating an automobile without the consent of the owner.

Mrs. Rogers told police she was driving home from work on the night of July 17 with a woman companion when Miller in another car forced her machine to the curb. Then, she said, he "beat her up" and drove the two women to his apartment in the car Mrs. Rogers was driving.

Police said Miller had known Mrs. Rogers for several years and was jealous because she was keeping company with another man.

Retires After 30 Years Service on Pennsylvania Line

H. E. Peterson, 256 Park avenue west, was one of 12 veteran employes of the eastern division of the Pennsylvania railroad to be retired last week, it was announced here today by railroad officials.

Peterson had been employed as a maintainer of telegraph and signals, and had been with the company for 30 years.

His retirement was effective July 18. Peterson had been stationed in Mansfield during his 30 years with the railroad, coming here from Perrysville to assume his position.

"I have no definite plans for the future," Peterson said.

REVAMP CITY PUMP STATION TO HIKE OUTPUT

City Workmen Work on Plan to Reduce Operating Cost, Boost Production.

City workmen today were reconstructing pumping arrangements at the Maxwell pumping station under a plan designed to set up delivery capacity to the Woodland reservoir and reduce operating costs.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said the work being done at the cost of $350 calls for the synchronization of transformers at the station to put three pumps into operation instead of depending on a single unit for 24-hour service.

He explained that water was being delivered at the reservoir by one pump delivering approximately 2,800,000 gallons daily.

Under the revised system of pumping, three pumps will be used to deliver an ultimate capacity of 5,000,000 gallons daily, but will be run only as needed to keep the reservoir at a minimum 15-foot level.

An 18-foot maximum level is obtained at the reservoir with the pumps being "cut-in" at Maxwell station when the level drops three feet.

Crafton said a savings would be effected in the power bills by controlling the pumps to meet the demand.

The work is being done by Earl Hoover, sewage plant electrician, under the direction of C. J. Kalbfleisch, superintendent of the waterworks.

It will be completed sometime next week, Crafton said.

CITY WEIGHING CONSTRUCTION OF NEW GARAGE

Plan Proposed to Centralize Housing of Mansfield's Motor Equipment.

Plans for the construction of a municipal garage to provide for the centralized housing of the city's motor equipment were disclosed today by Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton.

The proposal calls for the installation of gasoline tanks to allow for the bulk purchase of fuel along with the employment of mechanics to service the equipment.

Crafton estimated that the plan would mean a savings of approximately $4,000 annually in departmental expenditures for maintenance of motor equipment and filling station prices for gasoline.

Although the plans have not yet reached the blueprint stage, an architect for the National Youth administration is expected in Mansfield next week to go over the plans for design of a proposed building.

It is hoped that the garage can be constructed by NYA from the brick salvaged from West Fourth street.

The bricks are being hauled to the sewage disposal plant, proposed site of the garage.

Crafton said there was "more than enough" brick salvaged from the street to build the building. He has suggested a one-story structure 80 by 100 feet to provide shelter for approximately 40 pieces of motor apparatus.

The equipment is now housed in the garage at the City building and at the North Main street pumping station.

The service director advocated the employment of a "day and a night" mechanic as a means of reducing the city's maintenance cost on city-owned automobiles.

Installation of gasoline tanks would also allow for the purchase of fuel in the bulk and effect additional savings. This plan has been suggested repeatedly by state examiners who have criticized city officials severely for purchasing fuel at retail rates at filling stations.

SAY 28 GERMAN PLANES BAGGED IN RECORD DAY

British Claim Air Victories as Nazis Repeat Daylight Raids Over England.

third since Germany began large-scale daily bombings on June 18.

Until twilight, however, massed Nazi air raiders thundered over the English channel in repeated waves yesterday, striking at British ship convoys.

Late in the day hundreds of German Stuka dive-bombers, German fighters and British fighters battled above a convoy of at least 20 ships, which the Germans first bombed and dispersed, then bombed again when it reformed.

(In Berlin, the official German news agency said the Nazi air force sank 11 of 23 freighters in a convoy in the channel late yesterday and set fire to three other vessels and a destroyer.)

The British admiralty acknowledged loss of two naval trawlers—the Kingston Galena, and the Rodino—but did not say where they were sunk or give any casualty totals.

The admiralty also disclosed that 57 were killed and 23 wounded in the torpedoing and sinking of the British destroyer Whirlwind, which it announced was sunk on July 8.

An air ministry communique last night, admitting that five British planes were lost during the day, said that "hour after hour from dawn to late this evening" British fighter planes—Spitfires and Hurricanes — tackled large forces of German bombers.

In one instance, the communique said, six Spitfires attacked a formation of 30 bombers escorted by at least 50 fighters.

Germany's plans for southeastern Europe claimed attention in another phase of the tangled international situation.

Rumania's revamped, pro-Nazi government sent envoys to Germany today for the first of a series of week-end conferences in which Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop is expected to define the lines along which Germany will mediate Balkan differences and to tell Balkan diplomats how their countries will operate under Adolf Hitler's new era for Europe.

The Rumanians, hoping to trade oil, life blood of the Nazi war machine, for the reich's protection against the territorial demands of their neighbors, were first on Von Ribbentrop's visiting list.

Tomorrow the Nazi minister will see Bulgarian representatives, while the Slovak premier and foreign minister will call on Sunday.

On the eve of these conferences Rumania ordered 12 French oil company executives expelled and pledged every effort to pour 200,000 tons of Rumanian oil into the Nazi war machine this month.

DNB, official German news agency, carried a denial of the British report a German torpedo boat sank the French merchant ship Meknes Wednesday night off the Portland naval base with a loss of 300 of the 1,300 French sailors and officers being returned to their homeland. It quoted German sources who sought indirectly to lay the sinking at Britain's door.

The British told of "deliberate and callous" attack on the Meknes at the same time they acknowledged the sinking a month ago of the 16,243-ton Cunard White Star liner Lancastria, with 2,823 British soldiers, nurses and refugees still missing.

Nazis Cast Eyes Toward Turkey

BERLIN —(INS)— As a prelude to the "storm over England," Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today began a systematic reorganization of southeastern Europe, with particular attention to weaning Turkey away from her former collaboration with Great Britain.

Turko-German relations are moving rapidly toward complete approchement, informed quarters said. The trade agreement signed in Ankara yesterday, providing for exchange of goods totalling 21,000,000 Turkish pounds, "is symptomatic of the new political outlook between the Reich anc Turkey," a spokesman said.

Franz Von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey and the Reich's leading "trouble-shooter" is now on his way from Ankara to Berchtesgaden to discuss the whole situation with Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop. Official German quarters confidently expect that Turkey will soon renounce all her old ties with Britain.

"England," the spokesman declared, "is no longer able to mix in or disturb affairs on continental Europe."

Carol Visit To England Hinted

LONDON — (INS) — Possibility that King Carol of Rumania may come or attempt to come to England to seek relief from the political witch's cauldron in the Balkans was discussed in the British capital today.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in usually well informed diplomatic quarters that Carol has quietly approached the British government.

He is said to have asked whether it would be possible for him to enjoy at least a temporary sojourn in England in view of the allegedly growing difficulty of his position in Rumania owing to the rapid Nazification of his country.

YOUTH LOSES LIFE TRYING TO SWIM LAKE

Death Increases Ohio Toll From Heat Wave, Drownings to 42 in 8 Days.

rangements for burial were incomplete today. Besides the parents, three sisters, at home, survive.

Two other drownings near Findlay and Warren and two deaths from prostration were reported yesterday as the 90 degree heat wave moved through its seventh successive day.

Drowning victims were Harley Harmon, 16, North Baltimore, and Robert Swanson, 12, Braddock, Pa., who was visiting near Warren. Prostrated by the heat were James Clevenger, 33, Cincinnati, and Clarence B. Finlay, 64, Hardin county farmer.

Meanwhile definite promise of relief was contained today in the general forecast for Ohio which read:

Showers, thunderstorms, and cooler tonight and Saturday. Sunday generally fair with moderate temperature.

Thundershowers were already rumbling across many parts of the nation. Temperatures tumbled after the rain fell in the northern tier of states and the U. S. weather bureau forecast that high winds would push the cooler weather zone eastward and westward in the wake of storms tonight and tomorrow. The mercury fell to 66 degrees at Minneapolis, Minn., early today. Two days ago Minneapolis had recorded 103 degrees.

Wind and hail accompanied the cooler weather in some sections, but only minor damage was reported in northern Illinois where power lines were damaged seriously.

The cool zone extended eastward over northern New York. Toward the southwest, the cool mass had penetrated approximately to Oklahoma.

On the west coast, Oakland, Calif., reported 59 degrees today and Portland, Ore., 60. At Kansas City, Mo., the mercury was at 80 and Dallas, Tex., recorded 78. Louisville, Ky., reported 76 degrees, New Orleans 78, Jacksonville, Fla., 79, Washington, D. C., 76 and New York City 72.

The seven day hot spell had taken 321 lives in the nation before the temperatures began to return to normal. Heat deaths totaled 129 and drownings accounted for 192 deaths.

Ohio Valley Last.

The Ohio valley appeared destined to be one of the last sections to gain surcease from blazing heat, but cooler was forecast for Ohio tonight and for Kentucky, West Virginia, and southern Indiana tomorrow. Thunderstorms in each state were to follow in the wake of the heat.

Relief arrived suddenly in Chicago last night, after the mercury had climbed above 100 degrees for the second successive day—the fourth time in history this has occurred. At 5 p. m., the temperature was 101; at 8 p. m., it was still 97; but by 10 p. m. it had power-dived to 73.

The cooling winds, which earlier had swept over the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, were accompanied by showers, local windstorms and electrical displays. Many trees were blown down, a barn was struck by lightning and burned with a loss of $10,000 and several boats were capsized.

The heat, said Battalion Chief Michael F. Fallon, may have caused a fire in a railroad car of oil-soaked scrap steel chips on a siding at the Thompson Products, Inc., plant at Cleveland yesterday. Damage to factory buildings and a siding trestle was estimated at $1,000.

Sun rays were blamed for a $1,500 house fire at Sandusky.

At Cincinnati, a downtown restaurant attracted a crowd to its window with a copy of a January newspaper carrying this headline: "10 below expected tonight."

FIRST DRAFT HITS 1 IN 28

Ohio Would Furnish 20,000 of First 400,000 Set Up In Proposed Law.

five per cent of the state's total population.

All conscriptions will be handled with the Adjutant-general's office as the clearing house.

"We've had such a plan in a state of flux for ten years." Light explained. "We'll be ready when the bill is passed."

The setup in Ohio, according to General Light, would work this way:

All males between the ages of 18 and 64 years would register by election precincts, with clerks appointed by the state to do the filing.

Each man would be given a card with a number, and unless he were exempted in ways to be specified by the bill, and if he were between the ages of 21 and 31, he would be among those considered for the first draft.

Chances of a man with a family being called are small. Other exemptions include physical disability or employment in industries necessary for national health, safety of interest.

Propose to Reduce Enlistment Period

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— A proposal to reduce the army's voluntary enlistment period from three years to one will be offered to the senate next week as a substitute for the pending military conscription bill.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, (R. Mich), said this plan would be offered, either by himself or some other senator. He said it would bring 1,000,000 men into the army voluntarily within three months.

Vendenberg told the senate yesterday that he did not believe the army had demonstrated any need for compulsory military training or that it had sold the public.

The senate military affairs committee, which is considering the compulsory service bill, wrote into it a section designed to protect the jobs of men drafted into the army. An employer in interstate commerce who refuses to rehire a worker who had been drafted would be classified as guilty of an unfair labor practice under the Wagner act, and the conscript could appeal to the national labor relations board for reinstatement.

The committee approved a section forbidding a conscript to evade service by hiring a substitute.

The committee, however, failed to report the bill. It still must agree on a section providing penalties of $10,000 and five years for dodging the draft.

The house military affairs committee continued its hearings on the bill. This committee spent most of yesterday hearing representatives or religious orders urge the utmost caution to prevent persons with conscientious scruples against military service being compelled to enter the army.

Study Penalty For Draft Dodgers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate military committee went to work today on methods of curbing peacetime draft dodgers under the pending conscription bill.

It studied penalty proposals which would impose five years imprisonment, and fines up to $10,000 for any man between 18 and 65 who sought to evade compulsory military service if the measure becomes law.

Having decided to recommend passage of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill in principle, the committee devoted its session yesterday to the question of job security for conscripts who would be called to the colors for a year's service.

Three amendments were agreed on to protect the civilian jobs of men in the ranks.

The first provides that any employer, now subject to the Wagner Labor Relations act, would be guilty of unfair labor practice if he wilfully refused to reinstate a demobilized conscript. Under this section, a convicted employer would be compelled to reinstate a conscript with back pay.

A second amendment—inserted for employers engaged only in interstate commerce—holds it to be the "sense of congress" that all conscripts should be given back their old jobs.

The third concerns federal employes alone, and provides that they be restored to the payroll after their year's military training.

NOTICE TO CONTDACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received until 8 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time, on Friday, August 9, 1940, at the office of the Cass Township Trustees, in Shiloh, for the graveling of the Ranson Road No. 422, Kaster Road No. 214, Willet Road No. 68, Malone Road No. 59, Noble Road No. 81 and the Malone-Payne Road No. 71.

Bidding blanks and estimates may be secured from the Township Clerk and the County Engineer.

The bidder shall file with his bid a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 2 per cent of the estimate, making some payable to C. H. McQuate, Clerk, Cass Township Trustee, as a guarantee to enter into contract, and if successful, give bond for one half of the contract price.

Estimated cost of construction is $2285.15, and the time set for completion is Oct. 1, 1940.

The Trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids, and the successful bidder may be called upon to furnish satisfactory evidence as to experience and facilities for handling this work.

By order of the Cass Township Trustees.

Passports Not Needed In Mexico, County Clerk Told

American born tourists going into Mexico this summer and fall will not be required to have passports or visas, according to information received today by Norman P. Henry, naturalization clerk at the courthouse.

Henry obtained the information in response to a number of requests from Mansfielders who plan to visit Old Mexico this year. F. E. Bangs, of the Department of Justice office in Youngstown, wrote that natives of the United States would not need passports, either coming or going, but that it would expedite their re-entry into this country if they carried a birth certificate or some other means of identification.

Alien citizens of this country however, must have passports to re-enter, he said.

JAPS HALT U. S. TRADE IN CHINA

to Japan "will be very great," Yakichiro Suma, spokesman for the Japanese foreign office, said today.

Suma said there was no confirmation as yet of reports that the United States was embargoing such shipments. "Our reaction will be very great if it is true," he added.

(In Washington President Roosevelt signed an order requiring licenses hereafter for export of oil and scrap metals, Japan being the largest foreign buyer of the latter. The order does not shut off such purchases, but enables the American government to watch them closely and shut them off whenever it is deemed desirable.)

Informed Japanese quarters expect Japan to attempt to increase purchases of oil in the Netherlands East Indies if an American embargo is put into effect. Negotiations are continuing with the East Indies government on a wide economic program.

The newspaper Hochi in an editorial on the Havana conference today predicted failure of what it called attempts of the United States to organize a "super bloc" of American nations.

"South Americans already have made it clear that the conference will not follow the lead of the United States," the newspaper said.

South America's friendship with Spain and Italy, said Hochi, "is breeding an anti-American attitude." Latin America furthermore is bound to the Rome-Berlin axis by strong trade ties and respect for axis victories in Europe, the newspaper declared.

NEW YORK — (AP) United States prohibition of unlicensed exports of oil will have serious effect on the supply of oil to the axis powers but will not interfere with supplies to Great Britain, the British Broadcasting corporation said today in a broadcast heard here by NBC.

The NBC said Britain and her allies have nearly all the tankers in the world except for those belonging to the United States, while Germany and Italy have no tankers at sea.

Indian Makes Forecast From Crabs in River.

WARREN, Pa. —(AP)— A brave at the Cornplanter Indian reservation had unseasonable news today for the millions suffering from the heat—there's a, hard winter ahead.

He predicted the winter will be long and cold because "I never saw so many crabs in the river in my life."

"When there are plenty of crabs, it's going to be a long winter with plenty of ice on the streams, he explained. "Crabs make good eating for the shut-in fishes."

Mansfield News-Journal
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1940.

This is the season when people who have "nothing to wear" go to the beaches.

Remember the happy times when our only Caribbean problem was how to pronounce it?

The idea seems to be that it would be quite improper for any except New Dealers to talk politics at this crucial moment.

Localized 'Good-Neighbor' Policy

SUCH a wave of burglaries as has been going on in Mansfield during the past few weeks is a matter of concern for all citizens as well as the police department.

Mansfield is not yet too large a city to retain neighborhood acquaintanceships and interests and the "good neighbor" policy might well be localized to the extent of noting suspicious characters in residential sections, especially where there is prowling around the premises of neighbors who are away from home.

The type of sneak thieves, juvenile or older, who burglarize homes and offices, is quite readily identifiable and co-operation of citizens with the police would likely result in even quicker apprehension of the culprits in these cases.

Distressing as the thought may be, it is not safe to leave either doors or windows unlocked while away from home for even a short time—nor is it safe to permit transient vagrants or other strangers to wander around in residence sections of the city without surveillance.

In the absence of sufficient policing, the co-operation of citizens in making report to the police department of suspicious characters or occurrences in their own neighborhoods may help in running down the present marauders and materially reducing burglaries in the future.

Quick Thinking Required

EVIDENCE of the quick thinking that is sometimes required of a motorist in the face of an emergency demanding instant action was seen in the incident of the accident which befell Baltimore tourists in this vicinity yesterday morning.

Swerving suddenly to avoid running over a dog that had been hit by another car, the Baltimore driver ran his car off the road and into a pole, resulting in severe injuries to two in the party.

First inclination of every decent motorist is to avoid striking a dog, or any other animal on the road, but sometimes only a split second is given in which to decide between hitting the animal and possibly wrecking the car and injuring or killing some of the occupants.

This is only one instance of the quick and clear thinking required of motorists on either a long or short trip—but it provides convincing proof that attention of the driver dare not be relaxed for even an instant.

Nazi Method of Looting

THE latest Nazi scheme for looting conquered countries is characteristic of the whole Nazi attitude toward life. First they devalue the currency of the defeated people. Then they buy everything they want on the new terms. And the only security for the lower currency is the Reichsmark balance in Berlin.

In France, the franc has been shoved down 70 per cent and all manner of supplies are purchased at the lower valuation. The theory of the "purchase" is that Nazis do not steal—they buy. They look, at first, not so bad to their victims. Citizens see city regulations set up, evacuees returned to their homes, they think perhaps they were foolish to worry so much about German invasion.

Then begins to break over them what has really happened. Their goods have been taken from them under the guise of purchase, but with no hope of payment in any coin which will buy anything useful. The gendarme who was a neighbor when off duty and who could always take a joke has been replaced by the Nazi police who hold every idle word as an offense. They must eat what they are told to eat and wear what they are told to wear. Comfort is gone. Goods are gone. Freedom is gone.

The Canadians who were in the last war have a saying now going the rounds, "Compared with the Nazi, the Hun was almost a gentleman."

One Boy's Plight

GREAT is the power of publicity. Albert Marks, a Quincy, Mass., boy, got his name in the paper because he was having trouble raising money for a license for his dog. He finally arranged with the keepers of the dog pound to clean it out in exchange for the license and all seemed to have ended well.

Not so, however. Kind people read about Albert and his dog license and they sent quantities of money to Albert. Now he's in a mess. If it's a check, it costs an envelope and three-cent stamp to return it to the donor. When he received a money order, Albert thought he had to cash it and buy a new one to send it back. That cost him nine cents—which, says Albert, is the price of four cents worth of candy and an ice cream cone. If he'd only thought to ask the postmaster he would have found the money order returnable like a check. Please, he says, don't send me any more money!

Governmental Volunteers

THREE or four big business names have so dominated the news of civilian volunteers at Washington that the public has hardly realized the extent of such services. A Washington correspondent writes that "big business is back here working for the government with a fervor unrivalled since NRA days."

Here are a few names of the many adding luster to the list: W. Averill Harriman, son of the famous railroad magnate; Gano Dunn, New York [illegible] engineer; Clarence Francis, president of General Foods; Marion B. Folsom, of the Eastman Kodak company; John D. Biggers, president of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company; Arthur Besse, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers; H. J. White of du Pont's rayon division, and many more.

Reading that Hitler's people now have plenty of food and that in Poland people are "picking bits of meat from dead horses," a reader does quite a lot of thinking.

It is estimated that four out of [illegible] at the Chicago convention last week were on the public [illegible] attendance of 20[illegible] [illegible]

Each generation regards its own class as the greatest [illegible]

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK There is an Italian on 50th street whose name is Sam and who owns quite a restaurant. Sam, as so many of his countrymen were during the prohibition era, is a product of the speakeasy and made his money in purveying illegal drinks behind closed doors. When repeal came he set himself up openly, procured a license, began to serve steaks as well as Scotch stew, and has prospered.

Now Sam has a brother-in-law who had no job. He managed to gain employment for his brother-in-law as a doorman at one of New York's highest priced restaurants. His tips there averaged $20 a day. No kidding. Tipping is an unexplored avenue of revenue in this town. With his earnings this fellow opened a restaurant of his own. He is doing well.

THERE is a waiter in the famous Twenty-One club who is said to own a yacht. He is known to many of his friends and clients as "Winchell" because he is always in the "know." This waiter, it is alleged, and I believe it, practically paid for his yacht with tips that he has received from spenders and celebrities whom he has served through the years.

Some time ago I was told of a head-waiter who paid $5,000 for his job. He earns no salary. But the tips he receives run into an enviable annual figure.

Much has been recently and wisely written against the evils of tipping but, in New York at least, it is so firmly entrenched as a custom that it can never be abolished.

It is an unhealthy and sometimes a most annoying custom. Unless the size of one's gratuity measures up to the recipient's expectations one is likely to be snubbed, if not insulted. I know waiters who are good at names and at remembering faces who will not serve certain people because of their reputation as indifferent tippers. I suppose the reason for this is that tipping is an old world custom and most of New York's waiters are either French, Italian or German.

Once a colleague and myself decided upon a little experiment. We had dinner in a restaurant in 45th street, tipping the waiter before the dinner was served. He served us all right, but there was none of the briskness and the alert attention squandered on us that would have been ours had we waited until after the dinner to do the tipping. The man's idea was to get whatever was coming to him, and to put himself out being attentive AFTER he received a tip didn't make good sense to him.

TIPPING, as everyone knows now, is largely a matter of greasing the poke for those who own the concessions in this town.

Sherman Billingsley of the Stork told me that he sold his hat-checking privileges for $20,000 a year. So, before a single customer had entered the place he was $20,000 ahead. This means that when you give the pretty little blond a quarter for her smile and for holding your coat for you that, actually, you are giving a quarter to her boss, some well-heeled guy who at the time is probably off on his yacht somewhere. Shoeshine boys, hat check girls, cigaret girls, and others rarely are able to keep their own tips. They go to the "Boss," who in turn hires his tip-collectors at a minimum wage.

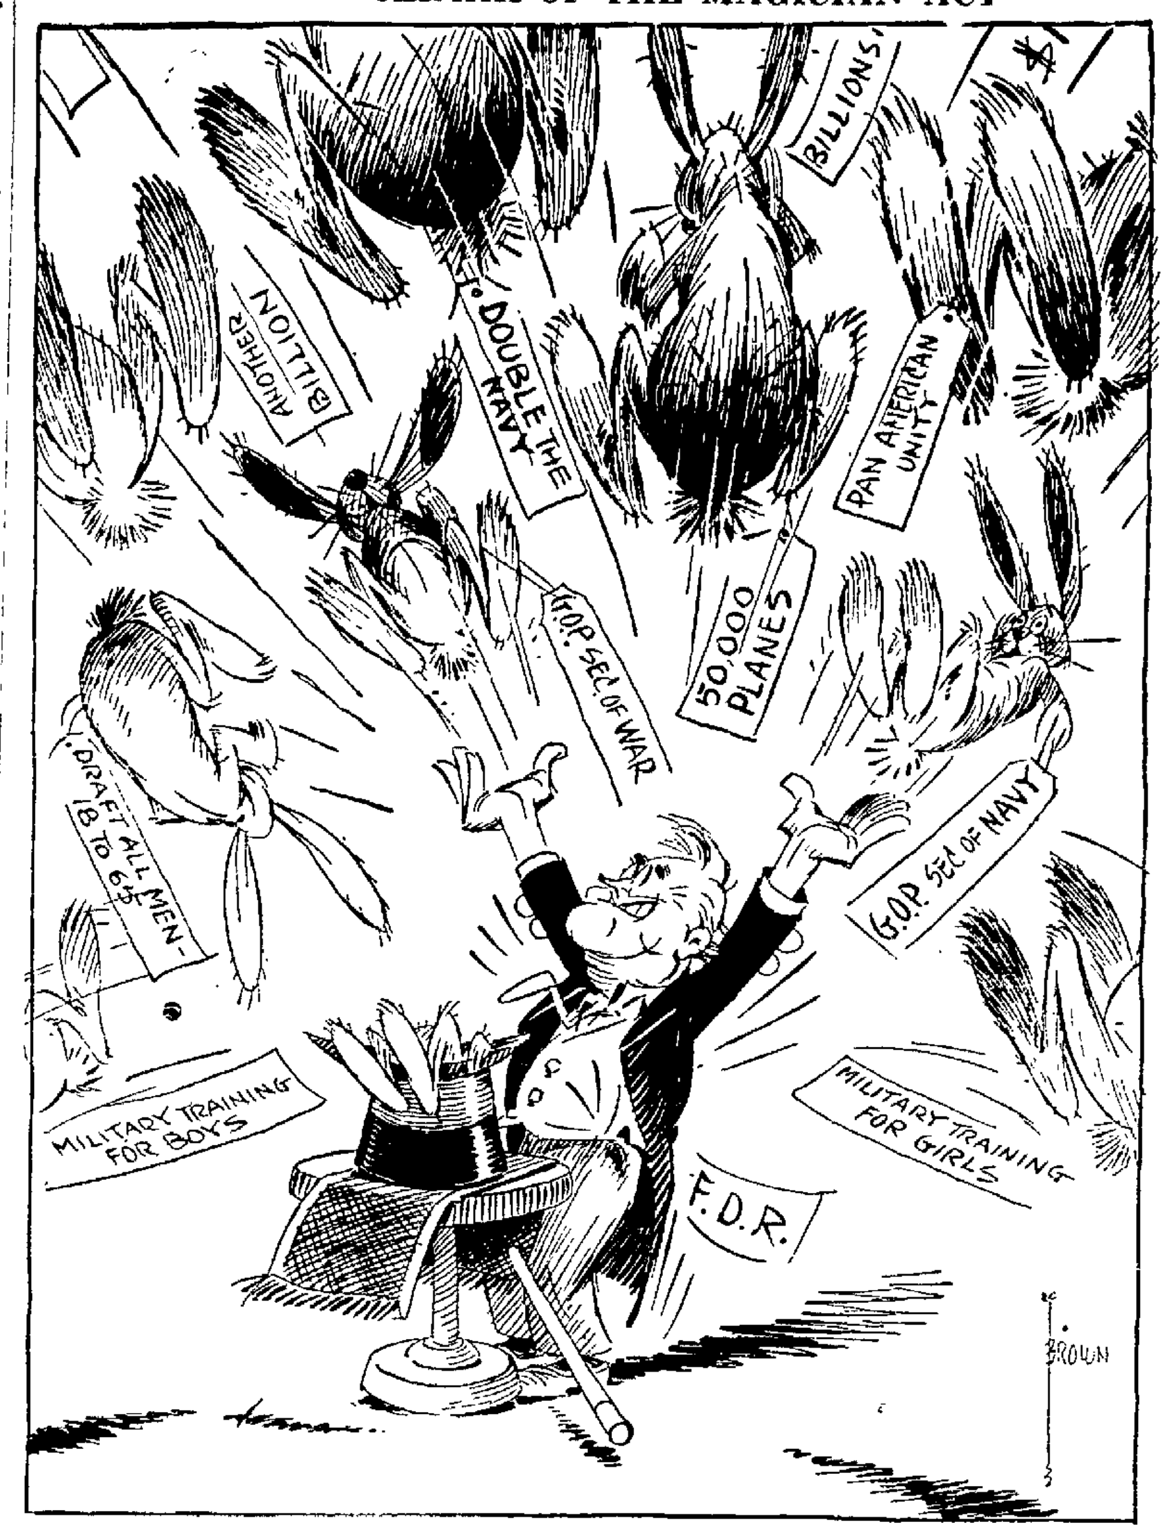
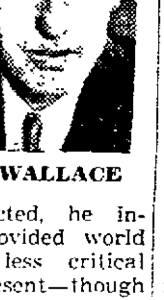
GRAND CLIMAX OF THE MAGICIAN ACT



Wallace Seen as Heir to Throne

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is supposed to have picked Henry A. Wallace for second place on his ticket, not only because he wanted the latter as his running mate, but with a view to getting him into the White House.



WALLACE

This doesn't mean that F. D. thinks he can't live through another term in the executive mansion. Neither does it necessarily mean that, if he's reelected, he intends to resign, provided world conditions become less critical than they are at present—though that story, without any confirmation, is current likewise.

What is does mean, according to capital gossip, is that the president has Wallace sized up as the best man to take over the New Deal leadership four years hence at the latest—to be president himself, whether as a Democrat, a Republican, a New Dealer or whatnot being of no particular consequence; his politico-economic philosophy rating as the essential consideration.

It's a yarn which can't be verified, but it's obvious, anyway, that F. D. really does have a very high opinion of his agriculture secretary, now probably retiring from a cabinet to go nationally a-campaigning. Otherwise he wouldn't have forced him, as he did, upon so conspicuously unwilling a convention.

Ickes and Hopkins.

One wouldn't think that such rip-snorting New Dealers as Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes and Commerce Secretary Harry Hopkins would fancy the idea of having Wallace presidentially preferred to one of themselves.

However, the fact remains that Henry actually does discuss New Deal policies more scientifically than the average believer in them. "Harry the Hop," as he's widely known in Washington, has all the zeal in the world, but he isn't much of a student. He asserts but he doesn't argue. Ickes is an ardent believer, but he doesn't tell "why" very clearly. A lot of New Dealers classify similarly. So do plenty of "antis."

Wallace reasons. Some of it's wrong, possibly, but it sounds logical.

In all likelihood President Roosevelt appreciates this, and maybe he deems Henry a heavier intellectual weight than most of his associates.

He unquestionably is, personally, extremely fond of Harry Hopkins, who virtually lives at the White House, but Harry isn't good presidential material. Ickes might be a little better, but even he hasn't Wallace's substance.

Well, Harold and Harry show no signs of being disgruntled, anyway. Some other New Dealers are outfight howling.

A Good Organization.

Incidentally Henry has, in the agriculture department, a first-rate organization, which perhaps can be made politically useful.

Assuming he quits his cabinet post, Henry won't have it directly under his thumb. Nevertheless, a corps of agents, scattered throughout the country, are beholden to him, and of course to the administration generally. Henry's in close touch with them, naturally.

Moreover, an organization's particularly important to the New Deal ticket just now because of Chairman Farley's retirement from the directorship of the national committee.

Listen, World!

Can You Make Up Your Mind?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

EVER watch a lady luncher fluttering over a platter of French pastry in an agony of indecision? Silly, isn't it?

Yet it's dollars to doughnuts that you're a bit like that yourself!

The hardest thing for the human animal to do is to make-up-its-own-mind.

More lives have been wrecked or wasted by indecision than by all the plagues and perils put together. Yet, in the majority of cases, the victims of indecision never know what licked them — and invariably blame their misfortune on the other fellow.

Of all human problems, this is the pestiest and least recognized. Few of us realize the importance of decision. We take it for granted that any normal person is born with an ability to know what he wants . . . or just naturally accumulates it as he goes along. Than which, no notion could be wackier.

Decision is always an acquired habit . . . and the most painfully acquired of all habits. Indeed, the great majority of human beings never do acquire it, but go through life uncertain as to what they want and seeking escapes from the dreadful business of making a choice.

We all claim to love liberty. Then why do so many stay in a mental rut all their lives? Why do they allow themselves to be dominated by other wills, often to their obvious disadvantage? Why do they bind themselves by various complicated codes . . . fill their lives with meaningless activities . . . follow rigid patterns?

BECAUSE THEY ARE UNABLE OR AFRAID TO TAKE THE RESPONSIBILITY OF MAKING THEIR OWN DECISIONS, AND GRASP AT ANYTHING WHICH WILL LIFT ITS UNWELCOME WEIGHT AND ARE USUALLY MISERABLE FOREVER AFTER!

The person who hasn't learned to make up his own mind is actually as helpless as a child who has never learned to walk or to go to bed without a light. But life penalizes him far more cruelly than it would a child. There may be an excuse for such helplessness in an infant but there is none for the grown man or woman.

The last day and biggest [illegible] for this [illegible] than to expect them to wash his neck. And there can be no happiness for him if he does. He may join any group he wishes, embrace any creed, follow any advice, but he must do so deliberately, as a free and self-respecting spirit, or he will go cringing through life, a traitor to his own soul.

There is no reason why any of us should lead starved and servile existences. Life has an abundance of opportunity for us all, but each opportunity carries a price. We must prove our own fitness by SHOWING OUR ABILITY TO DECIDE WHAT WE WILL TAKE, WHAT WE WILL REJECT.

"But suppose I make a wrong choice?" you say. Well, suppose you do, what of it? The worst choice you could make is far less tragic than never making a choice at all. Even a foolish choice will toughen your sinews, reduce your conceit and add to your store of wisdom. But continual indecision will make a spineless bum of you for keeps.

Learn to decide. Learn early and make your youngster do the same. Force yourself to face each emergency that arises, however small, and do something definite about it. Don't duck one single choice or let anyone else make it for you. FOR AS SURE AS YOU DO, LIFE WILL WRITE YOU OFF THE RECORD AND THE WORLD WILL KNOW YOU FOR WHAT YOU ARE—A RUN OUT!

As Others See It

Not Difficult.

A suspicious soul can always find plenty about which to be suspicious.—Sheboygan Press.

Sometimes we wonder whether [illegible] who go around [illegible] telling who is going to be elected to whom.—Columbus Dispatch.

Timely Editorial

Can Have a Good Time, Too.

America's enormous peace-time casualty list of accidents and avoidable illnesses, which rivals and sometimes exceeds the toll of war on many a European battlefield, will be shortened if current warnings from health authorities, automobile clubs and other agencies are heeded by the hundreds of thousands of the summer's vacationists.

Any man or woman can make up his own list of precautions — they're chiefly plain common sense: care in driving; in eating, drinking and playing; swimming only in protected places; avoidance of drinking water that may be contaminated and similar safeguards.

Observation of merely simple rules regarding these things will save many a life, avert many injuries and bring vacationers home hale, happy, sound and sunburned. And, by all means, not too sunburned.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

This Is Ohio

Toledo is the largest flour-milling center of Ohio, while Akron has special milling of buckwheat, oatmeal and breakfast foods. Many of the products are well known and shipped to all parts of the world.

The first flour mills in the state were located on the banks of the streams and operated by water-power. In 1815, the first steam flour mill was built at Cincinnati, with a capacity of 700 barrels each week. As the winter wheat fields developed and as transportation by rail and lake became available, the flour milling industry shifted from southern to northern Ohio.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The private White House plan is for a three-man command to take the place of Jim Farley as campaign generalissimo.

Head of the contemplated triumvirate will be Senator Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, who will hold the title of national chairman. One of the ablest strategists in politics, Byrnes will be of tremendous help in placating ruffled regulars miffed by the third term and Wallace's selection.

Because of the pressure of his congressional duties, Jimmy won't be able to devote all his time to running the campaign. So two other party chiefs will be brought in to assist him.

One is Frank Walker, wealthy lawyer and chain movie theater owner, who is an ace at money-raising but a washout in the hurly-burly of politics. Walker is one of the most likeable men in public affairs, but he dreads the limelight. He has told Roosevelt, to whom he is devoted, that he will help in the campaign in any capacity, but he does not want the chairmanship. So the plan is to use Walker where he can serve best, behind the scenes with some such title as executive director.

The other man is handsome Ed Flynn, Bronx boss and former New York secretary of state. Flynn will handle the big eastern voting centers, which he knows intimately.

Also in the cards is a housecleaning of subordinate national committee personnel.

Although re-elected for another term at Chicago, "Chip" Robert, secretary of the committee, is slated to be replaced by an official more acceptable to the new leaders. "Chip," popular and charming, doesn't stand very strong with the inner circle.

In a similar category is Charley Michelson, veteran press chief. However, Roosevelt likes him and he won't be dropped entirely. He will be supplemented by younger and more aggressive hitters, such as Louis Ruppel, slam-bang former managing editor of the Chicago Times, and Victor Sholis, Ruppel's political writer, who will be his lieutenant.

Hitler's Air Strength.

FROM the latest war department figure on Nazi air strength, you can get some idea of how tough a proposition the British are up against in warding off Hitler's air attacks.

Not counting the Italian air force, the Germans have about 26,000 airplanes and are turning more out at the rate of about 2,000 a month. This is in contrast to the British airplane strength of between 6,000 and 8,000 planes.

All reports indicate that the British planes are of better material, and that British pilots are better trained and willing to tackle overwhelming odds. In the long run, however, numbers count, and Hitler probably could affords to lose more than 10,000 planes attacking England and still not feel the consequences.

It isn't a very cheerful picture.

French Republic?

WHEN July 14, which is Bastille day and the French Fourth of July, rolled around this year, the protocol division of the state department was in a quandary.

For Bastille day celebrates the establishment of the French Republic, and the state department is supposed to leave congratulatory cards. Now that the French Republic has fallen, the protocol division did not know whether to leave cards marked "P. F." meaning "pour feliciter" (to congratulate), or to leave cards marked "P. C.," meaning "pour condoler" (to condole).

In the end, the state department played safe. It left cards with no initials at all.

Tobacco Smokers Note.

HOW anxious the justice department is to crack down on the big tobacco companies for price-fixing is indicated by the fact that the department is not waiting for the regular October term of the Kentucky grand jury to convene.

Instead, justice department officials are swearing out a bill of information before the federal courts, in which they swear certain information regarding price-fixing to be true, and to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Chief charge leveled against the big tobacco companies is that they combined to fix the price paid to the tobacco farmer, also that they fixed the retail price of cigarets paid by the consumer.

The justice department has been investigating monopolistic practices in the tobacco industry for two years. Among other things its investigators have found that the annual income of 400,000 tobacco farmers in the United States averaged only $400 to $500. Meanwhile the officers of the Reynolds Tobacco company alone have paid themselves a total of $28,000,000 during a five-year period.

Minton's Speech.

SCORES of speeches were made and reported during the Chicago convention, but the only one that really made GOP strategists sit up sharply was one by Senator Sherman Minton which completely escaped public notice.

The Indiana New Dealer delivered his talk before a large Negro rally in South Chicago, and fired a round at Wendell Willkie where politically it hurts.

Minton told his colored audience that Elwood, Ind., the Republican standard bearer's home town, had agreed to allow Negroes to participate in Willkie's acceptance ceremony only after a strong undercover pressure from GOP leaders.

Up to a few years ago, Minton said, Elwood had large signs at its city limits warning Negroes to keep out. Also colored railroad workers were not allowed to get off trains to buy food in the town. Minton even promised to produce the signs.

Minton's charges created a stir among his listeners and next day were all over the large Negro section of Chicago, which controls a lot of votes. For several years it has elected the lone Negro in congress, the present incumbent being Arthur Mitchell, who has held office for three terms.

Note—The Negro vote can swing a close election in such key cities as New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and Detroit.

A Farmer's Diary

Under Suspicion

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

ON TOP of a high ridge in central Pennsylvania I saw a gravel road that wound up to a still higher vantage point and a sign that read, "One Half Mile to Observation Tower." I followed the little road.

In the midst of an area of cut-over mountain land stood an 80 foot tower. I parked my car in an open space between a garage and a forester's cabin and climbed the steps to the tower. The observation platform was closed and padlocked. However, I stood upon the steps and looked north, south and west over rugged waves of ridges obscured by dull blue haze. It was a peaceful Sunday afternoon and only the rustling leaves of scrub oaks broke the silence of this mountain fastness. I felt the rareness of such solitude.

Presently I returned to the car, took out my pencil and paper, and began to make an entry in this journal. Then I wrote a letter home.

Before I finished two other cars drove up and one of the drivers borrowed a wrench to fix his wheel. They stayed only a few minutes then were lost down the trail.

I finished writing, rested a little and started on. At the edge of the first city down in the valley I was stopped by a patrolman in uniform who motioned me to the curb. Another man in plain clothes was with him.

"Now what have I done?" said I. "Did I break a traffic rule without realizing it?"

"What were you doing up at the tower [illegible] miles west?"

I explained and added that I was writing a feature for the newspapers.

"May I see it?"

"Certainly—but I doubt if you can read my writing."

He took a look and asked shortly, "Was that all you wrote?"

"Well, no," I admitted. "I wrote a letter to my wife—but I don't think I'll show you that, unless you insist."

He smiled. Then he asked for my identification papers, my driver's license, etc., and when I handed him my wallet he started toward a building nearby.

"Hold on — " I ejaculated, "where are you going with that?"

He grinned and explained that it was necessary to copy data for the records and that he'd bring it back in a minute.

"What is this all about anyhow?" I demanded of the other fellow.

"Some men reported you were making writings and drawings about that tower and location," explained the officer. "Sorry—since all this talk about subversive elements we investigate everything suspicious."

I mused, as I drove on, "America is on guard, how well it is!"

LUCKY FOR LOVE + + + + + +

CHAPTER I

LIGHTS in the theater dimmed. The audience rustled, leaned forward expectantly. At the right of the stage a spotlight picked up a young man of medium height and build; his dark hair brushed to a patent-leather gloss. A thin aquiline nose was set firmly on well-chiseled features. The stamp of Broadway was on his clothes, from the nipped-in waist of his plaid sports coat and brown woven-leather sandals to his linens, which were a shade known as "red rust," a shade of which even the most forward-looking young man about Millville had, until this day, been totally ignorant.

The Broadway effect of clothes was heightened by the demeanor of the young man in the spotlight. He smiled, wearily. His dark eyes, appraising his audience through the dim light, drooped ever so little. He gave the impression of one who conceals an almost insuperable boredom beneath a determined effort to please. Women in the shadows preened. Girls reached surreptitiously for their powder puffs and lipsticks. Nothing like this had been seen in Millville since Johnny Shako's band played a stopover engagement in River park three years before.

"Friends of the theatah," he began in a voice at once resonant and patronizing, "you have chosen and you have chosen well. Your votes for the loveliest flower in the Intercity Bouquet of Beauty contest have been counted. As you know, a rich reward is offered by the Metropole Amusement corporation—which I represent—to the flower you deem to be the fairest in the Beauty Bouquet of six foremost cities in your splendid up and coming community. Yes indeed, a rich reward, a magnificent reward—a round-trip ticket, a ten-days' visit to that superspectacle of all ages, the world's fair, yes, with sight-seeing trips in and around New York, the magic city of the world and all expenses paid!

"I see you have moved to the edges of your seats, my friends. To the edges of your seats, and no wonder! But listen, you've heard only the half of it. Only the half—the Metropole Amusement corporation, which I represent, is prepared to offer a companion round trip ticket, a companion ten-days' visit with all expenses paid, for any chaperon the lucky little lady may select to accompany her."

"Hi, mister," a hoarse voice jibed from the rear of the theater, "s'pose the lucky gal don't want no chaperon. S'pose she'd ruther see the big city on her own?" To the Initiated, the voice obviously was a "plant," but the audience roared with laughter. The dark young man on the stage raised his hand, signaling for silence.

"Thank you, my good sir," he said, with a show of humor. "Thank you. Your point is well made. We are prepared to answer it generously, yes, handsomely. If the lucky little lady prefers to be—as you put it—'on her own,' the Metropole Amusement Corporation, which I represent, will not only chaperon her itself for the duration of her visit, but we will hand her one hundred dollars in cash—ten crisp crackly new ten-dollar bills to spend as she pleases. How's that for a gift! A hundred-dollar fun fund."

Another roar of laughter from the audience. Another signal for silence.

"And now, my friends, the fateful hour has struck right here in the Bijou Theater, Millville. The race is run. The fairest flower in the Beauty Bouquet is about to step forward and greet you!"

* * *

The speaker made a low sweeping bow from the waist, extended his right hand toward the wings. Out from behind the sleasy red curtain stepped a blond young woman in a pink evening dress. Her gait was self-conscious, a little defiant. When she reached the bestower of all this glamour, he took her arm, urged her to the center of the stage, and raised her hand after the manner of a prize-fight referee indicating the victor.

"Ladeez and gentlemen," he cried, "Miss Clara Marsh of Millville, the winnah!"

Applause rattled like musketry. There were shouts of acclaim, other noises not so pleasant from disgruntled partisans. The theater lights blazed.

"All right, beautiful," the speaker muttered in an aside to the young woman in the pink dress. "Open your mouth. I told you what to say."

"Oh, dear," she whimpered, clinging desperately to his hand. "I can't. I forgot what you said to say."

He stifled a groan. "You would! Just thank 'em then, thank 'em for their votes, and breeze. You can't stand here forever with your mouth hanging open."

The urgency, the impatience in his tone goaded her to action. She began, stammeringly, "I—I—want to I mean thanks for the votes. I think it was—it was—awfly nice of you to vote for me. I always wanted to go to New York—now I can go—and thanks for the votes."

* * *

The young woman in pink did not know how she reached the wings but suddenly she was there, and the bestower of glamour was looking at her between half-closed lids. It made her uncomfortable, the way he looked.

"Was I all right?" she asked, anxiously. "Was what I said—I didn't make a fool of myself, did I?"

"Umm," he was noncommital. "You certainly are loose with your 'I's,' beautiful. If you'd tossed in any more of 'em it would have been practically a one-letter speech. Come down to the Bijou tomorrow morning at 10. I'll have the manager here and we'll arrange about your trip. Right now I have to go and keep those five fair flowers in the left-over bouquet from tearing each other apart."

The "winnah" stood for a moment, still dazed with her measure of success, a trifle breathless, more than a trifle afraid that good fortune might be a dream, to dissolve with her waking.

"This way, Miss Marsh!" A stagehand beckoned her down a narrow corridor. "Mr. Kremer says you're to have a dressin'-room all to yourself." Kremer was the Bijou manager.

Clara Marsh followed the man much as would a sleepwalker groping in a trance. Her own dressing-room! The star's dressing-room, maybe! "Clara Marsh, famous star of stage and pictures, left today for Hollywood—"

"Here you are, Miss Marsh." The man indicated a door. The young woman in pink disappeared into the room, closing the door slowly behind her. The room was small and musty and not too clean. There were smears of grease paint on the grimy walls and a lingering odor of cheap cosmetics. The young woman saw only a tallish mirror above a long shelf, a mirror framed with six or eight electric lights. The mirror was chipped, cracked at one corner. The lights were dusty and fly-specked. But these details missed her entirely. She was lost in admiration of the figure reflected there. Lovely Clara Marsh of Millville—lovely Clara Marsh, the sensation of New York! She kept striking poses, ridiculously dramatic poses such as she imagined actresses would strike in emotional moments. The results fascinated her.

Actually the image in the mirror fell far short of the fascination with which the original endowed her. The true picture was of a curvish woman in her 23rd year, neither short nor tall, neither slim nor plump, her yellow-gold hair a bit too yellow, her china blue eyes a bit too blue. Her full red lips were pountingly flirtatious. Men often spoke of the blond Marsh girl as "the feminine type." Women remarked that her "good looks are too darned obvious."

Now the ludicrous posing before the mirror was interrupted by a knock on the dressing-room door, a timid apologetic tapping of knuckles.

"Who is it, please?" The poseur, still busy in the mirror, lifted her plucked brows, raised her bare shoulders. What a nuisance! These autograph hounds—silly—

"It's Ma, Clara." The voice was muffled, pleading.

"Ma! How on earth did you get back here? Wait a minute! Ma." She kicked off her silver sandals. They were at least a size and a half too small and had been pinching her feet cruelly. She ran to the door in her stocking feet, seized the tiny woman outside and drew her hurriedly into the room. "Ma, I thought I told you to wait in the candy shop next to the theater."

"I know, daughter, but I got to thinking maybe I could help you with your things, maybe pack them in the suitcase—seemed like you were a long time coming, so I asked one of the ushers in the Bijou and he brought me to you. I was that flustered, you winning the contest and all, I could hardly see where I was going. My Clara, the prettiest girl in six counties—oh my—I'm that flustered—"

"Ma, isn't it marv'lous? Me in New York, the grand big hotels, the night clubs with floor shows, plays with honest-to-goodness actors and actresses in them, taxicabs, swing bands ——" Clara danced around the room in her stocking feet, humming a popular song, fluttering her hands airily to the ryhthm. "It's simply marvlous! Ouch. For the lova Pete, help me get out of this dress, it's squeezing me to a pulp. Pick it up from the hem—that's right—then just sort of peel it off. Ouch! Don't peel my hide with it. I'll have to stop eating if I'm going to get into it again. Oh well, it's only an old rag. Stick it in the bag. Hurry so's we can get out of here."

"But, daughter," gently rebuking, "your pink satin. It's the nicest dress you have." Unconsciously work-roughened hands fingered a mend in her shabby old blue foulard, veteran of more seasons than the mother cared to remember. "It's the nicest dress you have, a beautiful dress—and so becoming."

"Skip it, Ma. Wait until you see the nifties I buy tomorrow." Clara slipped into a street dress of teal blue crepe. "What'dye suppose those other dames in the contest are doing, Ma? Are they burned up! I'll bet they hope I'll fall down and—and break my neck or something. I'll show 'em! I'll grow beautifuler and beautifuler." She stepped back to survey the effect of a soft white felt halo.

"Of course you will, Clara. You will indeed. Just hand me the silver sandals off the floor, will you dear? I'll tuck them here in the side——"

"Listen, Ma, suppose you take the bag and go on and wait for m in the Sugar Bowl. Maybe I'll run across Mr. Martino on my way out —Al Martino—he's the swell-looking fellow who gives the prizes for that Metrople Company, the one who introduced me on the stage. I got something I wanta talk to him about. Do that for me. Will you, Ma? If I don't show up in ten minutes, take the bag home with you. Maybe Mr. Martino will want me to go to supper with him—if he does I'll have to go after all they're giving me. Oh, Ma, isn't it simply marv'lous! Me being a prize beauty, I mean? Here's the bag. Gee, the darn thing's heavy as lead. Be sure and save a piece of fudge cake for me. I'll eat it when I get home. 'Bye, Ma."

The little drab woman picked up the bag, retraced her steps along the dusky corridors. The heavy bag struck awkwardly against her thin legs. Her Clara! She ought to be so happy. Why then this heaviness on her heart?

Marilyn Marsh turned in at the gate of the gray house with the green shutters. The house had once been gray with paint; now it was gray with the battering of time and weather, a depressing gray where the paint had worn off or was in process of peeling. Shutters despite their sagging, were its most attractive feature. They had taken on tones of blue with their green until they were of a shade artists strive for, but seldom achieve. Nature is still the most magnificent painter of them all.

The flower beds bordering the worn gravel path leading to the gray house were a tangle of old-fashioned bloom. They clambered out onto the path, and in the beds, struggled with one another for predominance.

"I wish I weren't so dog-tired," Marilyn Marsh said aloud, "I'd get out here in a pair of dad's overalls and do some fast and furious gardening. The place certainly needs a lot of going over—it looks scrabblier every day."

Marilyn stopped to rescue a rose bud from the clutch of a morning-glory vine that was strangling it. A slim eager young thing, Marilyn Marsh, with a wind blown cap of chestnut-brown hair, eyes the color of wood violets growing in a shady spot, a touch of bronze in her skin and glowed right on through the winter snows. Presently she reached the steps leading to the broad somewhat rickety veranda and let herself down in a heap on the lower step.

"Mums," she called, "anybody home?"

Mrs. Marsh came through the open door, her hands in a flutter. "Oh, Baby," she managed breathlessly, "I'm that glad you're home. I declare I don't know what to do. The most wonderful thing has happened—"

"Good." Marilyn tumbled the damp hair back from her face. "Are there any lemons in the house, darling? The most wonderful thing on earth this minute is a pitcher of lemonade with a large chunk of ice in it. My mouth is absolutely chalky——"

"But, Baby, your sister- she—"

"I know. Clara won the beauty contest at the Bijou theater. A customer stopped in the store and told us about it."

"But aren't you happy, Baby? Our Clara six counties- a trip to New York!"

"Of course I'm happy. I'd shout with glee if I had enough energy left to raise a shout. This family can do with a few strokes of good luck. My word look who's coming down the streeet! The queen in person accompanied by her faithful outriders, dad and the kid brother. Now we can all join hands and sing ring-a-rosy!"

Clara Marsh swept up the flower-grown path in what she believed to be her great-lady manner. She was followed by a gaunt man with stooped shoulders, a man done in tones of gray like the worn house; by a rangy lad of 12 or thereabouts, redheaded and plentifully bespattered with freckles.

"Hi, Lovely!" Marilyn called gaily. "Congratulations. I hear you've brought fame to the family."

"Thanks." Clara swished her skirts beyond the reach of an encroaching lilac bush. "Why doesn't somebody cut these darn things back where they belong. And why can't pa fix that gate—it's been hanging on one hinge for months. This place is a disgrace. How you can expect me to make anything of myself, living in a—a ——"

"Aw, give it a bone, Big Stuff, will ya?" William Marsh jr., the redheaded boy with the freckles, kicked loose gravel off the toe of his shoe. "Yau ain't Hedy Lamarr —not yet. Mom, can I have some cookies?"

"Yes, son." The mother welcomed an appetite that swung attention away from Clara's complaints. "You'll find them in the jar on the pantry shelf. I baked them this morning—molasses."

"Gee, Mom, that's swell!" The boy dived into the house, leaving the door slam sharply behind him.

Nazi Effort to Undermine U. S. Monetary System Seen

AMERICA HAS GOLD CORNER TO PROTECT

United States Has 80 Per Cent of World Wealth Hoarded Away.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — The United States, with a $20,000,000,000 gold hoard, may be forced into the role of chief defender of the metal against a campaign by goldless nations to undermine its monetary prestige, Wall Street banking sources said today.

Bankers who have followed closely a warming debate over the future of gold, including arguments from Berlin the metal would lose its high international exchange worth, said Nazi strategy appeared to be aimed at focusing attention on the United States' gold position in preparation for the post-war fight for trade.

Recently 80 per cent of the world's recorded monetary gold has been concentrated in the United States, much of it moved here since the start of the war.

Despite the cessation of gold shipments from continental Europe since the surrender of France, the United States has continued to move closer toward a "corner" on the treasure.

England, long regarded as the world's leading gold champion, has been drawing upon her extensive reserves and the British empire's output of newly-mined gold to pay for war purchases here.

Attracting renewed attention in Wall street to the Berlin attitude was the comment of Walther Funk, German minister of economics, that gold would cease to be the basis of European currencies and that world economy would not suffer if the vast stores of the metal in the United States were lost.

An outstanding Wall Street gold authority, who declined to be quoted directly, conceded some economists in this country had become pessimistic over the outlook but said the general view in financial circles, as he found it, was far apart from Funk's.

He said it apparently would be to Berlin's interest to depreciate gold, either to win trade concessions from the United States or to bring other nation's into the Nazi trade system. Germany, he noted, is short of gold and produces little.

A widely-expressed Wall Street feeling, as represented in recent debate on gold, was that Uncle Sam has a valuable ace-in-the-hole in the play for trade as long as the metal holds its established prestige as a medium of international exchange.

According to this view, Germany and other totalitarian nations may dispense with gold for internal use but will have to use it to settle foreign trade balances if commerce is pursued on any basis other than barter.

TERSELY TOLD

Brief Bits of News From Around World.

(By Associated Press)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Normal family must include four children instead of "ideal" two if United States is to continue as first rate power, Harvard sociologist Carle C. Zimmerman says in predicting population drop.

LONDON—Impish George Bernard Shaw spends 84th birthday quietly in fourth-floor apartment amid letters-to-the-editor discussions of war conduct; latest suggestion is for Britain to feed Germany to assure "fight to a finish."

ALAMO, Tenn.—Demented tenant farmer, Finis Avery, 25, flees from posse after fatal shooting of Sheriff E. G. McLean under delusion that officer was going to take him off to war; each have five children.

MEXICO CITY—Strike talked as petroleum workers meet to plan opposition to President Cardenas' reorganization order for industry; revamping of railway system also reported planned by government.

POCATELLO, Idaho—Hot? Not Caribou National Forest rangers who have to drain auto radiators at night to keep 25-30-degree temperatures from freezing water at 7,000-foot elevation.

BERN — Swiss citizens learn per capita cost of keeping army on war footing is higher than in some belligerent countries; couple with $3,000 yearly face $620 income tax in some cantons against $519 in Germany, $868 in England.

ON BALLOT

COLUMBUS —(P)— Ivan R. Gongwer of Upper Sandusky should be declared Democratic nominee for state senator in the 13-31st district, Secretary of State George Neffner has informed the Seneca county election board. Gongwer's opponent Raymond Ackerman of Galion died before the May primary but received more votes than Gongwer.

GETS $20 FINE

Pleading guilty to a charge of intoxication when arraigned in municipal court today, Archie Searle, Pavonia, was fined $20 and costs. Unable to pay he was committed to jail.

Police said they arrested him last night at Fifth and North Main street, after he had been stopped by a citizen, who told them Searle's automobile had struck another car at East Fifth and North Diamond street. The man told police neither driver stopped.

SET UP SPECIAL TRAINING CORPS

Business, Professional Men Between 25 and 50 Can Enroll in CMTC.

A special course for training of business and professional men between the ages of 25 and 50 will be held this year in connection with the annual Citizens' Military Training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, it was announced today by Major James L. Zimmerman of the Mansfield Reserve Officers corps.

Trainees in this course will be enrolled in a separate company from the trainees in the regular CMTC course of instructions. This special course, Zimmerman said, will consist of basic first year work, modified to be applicable to men of more advanced age and experience. Training and administration will be conducted by regular army and reserve personnel.

Zimmerman pointed out that no obligation rests upon these trainees for military service; and that while no commissions can be handed out, there will be certificates to show that the men have taken military training.

Each applicant accepted must pay his own mess bill for 30 days in camp, which will be $18 and additional miscellaneous expenses which will amount to $25.50, and this must accompany the application when it is mailed to the Citizens Military Training Camp, Fort Hayes, Columbus. No applications can be filed here, Zimmerman said.

Uniforms and equipment will be provided by the government without cost to the individual.

APPROVAL SEEN

Senate Expected to Lose No Time on Appointment.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Administration leaders predicted today the senate would approve quickly the nomination of Federal Judge Robert P. Patterson, 49-year-old Republican, to succeed Louis Johnson as assistant secretary of war.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early said that Johnson resigned in conformance with the long-established custom of permitting cabinet appointees to choose their own assistants. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson chose Patterson, he explained.

In his letter of resignation to President Roosevelt, Johnson said:

"I offered my resignation immediately upon your advising me of your intention to appoint another secretary of war. I then understood you desired that I remain. I have therefore so continued. I am now informed that Mr. Stimson had already made other plans. . . .

"It is with keen regret, therefore, that I tender my resignation again. I have no alternative."

VACANCIES IN U. S. AIR CORPS

Civil Service Exams Set For Wright Field Posts.

Announcement of vacancies in three branches of the air corps at Wright Field, Dayton, was made here by the Civil Service Commission.

Vacancies exist in the positions of assistant physiologist, assistant aircraft maintenance supervisor, and junior aircraft maintenance supervisor.

Place of employment for the three positions will be with the air corps, War Department, Wright Field. Applications must be filed with the manager of Sixth U. S. Civil Service district, U. S. post office and court house, Cincinnati.

Further information on application for positions can be had by contacting George H. Hoover, local secretary of the Civil Service Commission at the Mansfield post office.

RECEIPTS JUMP

BUCYRUS—Receipts at Bucyrus postoffice jumped more than $2,000 during the fiscal year ending June 30, according to the report of Postmaster Carl Young.

Receipts for the year just closed were $68,910 against $66,806 the preceding year. Receipts have increased each year since 1934 when the total was $49,434.

FEAR BOMBS

University of Pittsburgh Placed Under Guard.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The steel city, wary of possible sabotage in its many defense industries, was more bomb-conscious than ever today following an anonymous threat to "blow up" the University of Pittsburgh, the world's tallest school building.

The threat came in a telephone call to a fire alarm operator in a municipal building last night.

"We're going to blow up the University of Pittsburgh tonight," a man's voice said.

The threat didn't materialize and city officials believed it the work of a crank, but extra private guards and plain clothesmen were stationed at the 535-foot multimillion dollar building, popularly known as "the Cathedral of Learning."

To forestall any sabotage, extra guards were recently placed on duty at large industrial plants here.

Delegation From Jap Plant Visit At Westinghouse

Five representatives of one of Japan's largest industrial firms, the Mitsubishi company, visited the Mansfield plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company this week.

The delegation, which has been in the United States since early in June, was headed by G. Kawai, a director of the Mitsubishi company and board chairman of the Mitsubishi Denki Kaisha, the company's electrical goods division.

Others in the group were M. Wakabayaski, Mr. Kawai's secretary, and K. Hirayama, Y. Maeda and T. Onaka, members of the company's engineering staff.

The Mitsubishi company is a Westinghouse licensee, and sells appliances and other products manufactured under these licenses in Japan and her colonies, possessions, and protectorates. The delegation will return to Japan late in August.

DAUGHTER BORN

EIGHT FRENCH LEADERS FACE WAR RESPONSIBILITY CHARGE

VICHY, France —(U.P.)— Eight poltical leaders, including five former cabinet members, are to face trial on grounds of fleeing the country and sharing responsibility for the war disaster which crushed France, it was made known today.

Four men face charges of desertion, as members of the armed forces—Pierre Mendes-France, Socialist deputy and former treasury under secretary; Jean Zay, radical Socialist deputy and former national education minister; Pierre Vienot, radical Socialist deputy and former foreign under-secretary, and Charles Wiltzer, Socialist deputy.

The other four were members of the war cabinet—Edouard Daladier, premier; Georges Mandel, interior minister; Cesar Campinchi, navy minister; and Yvon Delbos, education minister.

These eight are among those who fled to Africa in the liner Massilia.

Charges may be brought against some former leaders of anti-national negotiation with a foreign government—Britain.

CLOSE SCHOOLS

Mexican President Acts to End Student Strike.

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— The department of public education, by authority of President Lazaro Cardenas, ordered today the closing of 55 rural schools where about 6,000 students have been on strike since June 20.

The department said it was unable to meet the strikers' demands because they would require an additional outlay of $240,000.

The strikers asked the government to provide their books, increase the daily food allowance, build domitories and supply drinking water and electric lights.

COUPLE WED

BUCYRUS—Announcement has been received here of the marriage July 17 in Greenup, Ky., of Miss Opal Irene Mitton, daughter of Mrs. Lura Mitton of Marion, and Howard E. Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Barber, of this city.

The couple are living for the present with Mr. Barber's parents. Mr. Barber is employed at the C. W. Warnock company.

GRANTED DIVORCE

ASHLAND—Decree of divorce was granted in common pleas court here to Hazel Marietta Smith from Robert Cloyd Smith on grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Mrs. Smith was awarded custody of two children, and was allowed support payments.

Victim of Stomach Distress Tells of Rescue By "Vendol"

Electrician had gas, sourness, acid risings, palpitation, headaches, heavy feelings associated with constipation. Got amazing relief from Vendol.

"My health was not bad enough to have me down where I couldn't keep going, but many days found me very miserable and upset," declares Mr. David H. Richey, an Electrician formerly employed by the City of Mansfield. "I was constipated almost every day unless I took medicine, and when I neglected this I would suffer so badly from acid indigestion, gas, pains, bloating, hot liquid rising in my throat, and a feeling like a heavy lump lay on my chest, that I could hardly bear it. This made my nerves quiver and sometimes I'd have swimming headaches and little spots darting before my eyes.

"I had tried different things, but one day my druggist told me he never sold a better medicine than Vendol for these troubles, so I got some, and it proved to be everything he said. Vendol relieved my constipation giving full, complete, easy action; then all signs of upset, distressed stomach disappeared; the little spots before my eyes, swimming in the head, and jumpy nerves were relieved; in fact, Vendol made me feel better than in years, so I am glad to recommend it to others.

MR. DAVID H. RICHEY

Vendol is sold by most all leading druggists here and is especially recommended by Central Drug store, Cor. Main and Fourth streets.

SURVEY SHOWS DEFENSE AIDS LABOR RANKS

Secretary Perkins Says Peak Not Likely for at Least One More Year.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON —Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, reporting large increases in employment figures as a result of the National defense program, predicted today that the peak of employment would not be reached for at least a year on the basis of present defense orders.

She estimated that employment in non-agricultural industries on June 15 was 900,000 larger than a year ago. Return of another 1,000,000 men to work by fall now seems probable, other labor officials said.

Employment in the six major defense industries — shipbuilding, aircraft, machine tools, engines, aluminum and explosives — increased 13,900 between May 15 and June 15, Miss Perkins said; on June 15 employment in those industries was 113,300 larger than the 1937 average.

In contrast with the usual May-June decline of 60,000 in factory employment, factories took on 50,000 additional workers during those 30 days this year, she reported.

Other industries have been stimulated indirectly by government orders. The steel industry hired 21,000 additional workers between May 15 and June 15; electrical machine plants added 3,000 workers and woolen and worsted goods plants hired 7,000 more workers.

The number of workers on WPA projects on June 15 decreased, due to a reduced budget, to 1,695,000, a reduction of 244,000 from May 15 and 938,000 below June 15, 1939, Miss Perkins reported.

COTTAGE BURNS

BUCYRUS — Edward Utz escaped injury when fire originating in a coal oil stove on which he was preparing breakfast, completely destroyed his cottage at Point Place, two miles west of Bucyrus Thursday morning.

The cottage and all furnishings were destroyed. Bucyrus firemen saved nearby cabins by playing water on them.

MANSFIELDERS HELD TO JURY

grand jury under bonds of $5,000 each.

They were charged with robbing a Reynoldsburg filling station attendant of $77 on June 29.

Two other members of the alleged gang, Robert Bushey, 21, Shelby, said to be the ringleader, and Clifford Walters, 21, of 22 King street, who allegedly took part in the same holdup are being held in Norwalk along with William Walters, Clifford's brother; Paul Fox, 21, Lily street; John W. Snyder, 19, of 184½ North Main street, and Gordon T. McElroy, 21, of 84 Orchard street, for a holdup at Wakeman July 15 in which they said they obtained $18.

The other gang suspect, Glenn R. Hanlon, 21, of 15 Woodland avenue, is held in the Richland county jail awaiting grand jury action on a charge of burglarizing a Lincoln heights filling station of $30 worth of spark plugs.

Detainers have been filed against Bushey and Walters by Franklin county authorities while Richland county authorities have filed breaking and entering charges against Bushey, McNeely and Fox who allegedly took part in the burglary with Hanlon.

OIL INDUSTRY SAVES STOCKS

time, the treasury department announced denial of clearance papers to two tankers loaded with oil for Spain.

Spain's pro-axis leanings are well-known, and Spanish petroleum imports from the United States have jumped about 33 per cent in a year. Japan has been a heavy purchaser of American scrap metal.

A ranking official of the oil association viewed the situation this way:

"The two chief reasons for the export control are the desires to build up stocks of 100 octane aviation gasoline, in view of the national air defense expansion, and to be sure that our exports of petroleum do not get into hostile hands.

"Personally, I do not feel that the export control is necessary, because I do not believe that there is a single oil company in the country that would ship a barrel of oil anywhere if the state department asked it not to. The oil companies would respond 100 per cent to any such simple request."

He asserted that the new order would cause "belt tightening throughout the industry.

"I imagine that this will mean further restrictions on oil production all down the line," he said. "But then, we've been tightening our belts since the war started and country after country, to which we normally ship huge amounts of oil have been shut off as markets."

Perfecting facilities to produce the 100-octane aviation fuel will require considerable plant expansion, he predicted.

VACATION DAYS are well under way, and the list of arrivals and departures among Mansfielders is indeed lengthy. . . . Mrs. B. W. Forkner and her sisters, Ada and Evangeline White, left yesterday morning with their brother, Will White of Wooster, to drive to Declo, Ida., where they will visit with another sister, Mrs. Ferd Fuga and her family. . . . They're planning also to go to Yellow Stone National park and Sun Valley before returning about the middle of next month by way of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Denver, Col.

Enjoying the ocean waves and breezes at Atlantic City, N. J., this week are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kinkel and their children and Mrs. Fred Kinkel, who are stopping there at the Seaside hotel. . . . Also in the east this week is Claude M. Hunter, who's vacationing at the Bedford Springs hotel in Bedford, Pa.

* * *

Her Mansfield friends will be pleased to know that Mrs. Anna Sens (a former resident who has lived in Rochester, N. Y., for many years) is here for a visit of several weeks—her first in two years. . . . She's a guest at the home of her niece, Mrs. Clarence Skinner, and is visiting with other relatives too. . . . Another former Mansfielder, who's in town now is Mrs. Don Davey—although you may better remember her as Kay Frank. . . . She's here from Philadelphia, Pa., where her husband is employed.

* * *

Oh yes, and I mustn't forget to tell you that Mrs. William Daisley and her young daughters, Suzanne and Dianne, are in town for an indefinite stay. . . . They're visiting with Mrs. Daisley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Bruce—you probably recall that she was Peg Bruce before her marriage. . . . She and her husband have been living in Lafayette, Ind., but will soon go to Piqua, where Mr. Daisley has been transferred in connection with his business.

* * *

These are important days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Clingan, as their son, Robert, is visiting them for the first time in many months. . . . He's here from Lexington, Ky., where he is employed since his graduation from the University of Kentucky last spring. . . . Another house guest at the Clingans during Bob's stay is Sarah Lee Patton of Sparta, Mich.

* * *

WHILE we're all sweltering, it's consoling to know that a few of our friends are enjoying vacations in the cooler northern climes. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes have been motoring through Canada for the past two weeks, and I'll wager they're trying not to even think about returning home Sunday. . . . Fishing, golfing and relaxing make up the days for a foursome of Mansfielders 'way up at North Port Point, Mich., just now—they are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Siegenthaler and Mr. and Mrs. John Bissman.

* * *

AND IN CONCLUSION: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Danback and their daughter, Pearl, are leaving tomorrow morning for a two-weeks' motor trip to New Orleans, La., and the Smoky mountains. . . . Also heading south tomorrow will be Jim H. Davis who is taking a 10-day drive to Washington, D. C., Norfolk, Va., Charleston, W. Va., and other places of interest with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harwood of Cleveland. . . . Mrs. G. T. Brooks (the former Corinne Williams) has returned to her home in Memphis, Tenn., following a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams, other relatives and friends.

New York Makes Bow With New Hat Styles

Card Clubs Enjoy Socials On Mid-July Afternoons

APPARENTLY some Mansfielders have decided that one of the best ways to forget the discomfort of the dog days we're now experiencing is to do something to concentrate the attention on something else. Anyway the card clubs continue to flourish with various diversions being offered.

Last night Mrs. Etheline Stinehour, 254 Newman street, entertained the Get-Together club. There were 14 present. Prizes were won by Mrs. Dorothy Hallabrin, Mrs. Rose Marie Manley and Mrs. Emma Wilson. Luncheon was served at the close of play. Mrs. Christine White will entertain at her home, 98 South Foster street, Aug. 13.

Dinner was served to the members of the Octette club when they met last evening at Scotty's on the Ashland road. Bridge was played later at two tables with prizes going to Mrs. Manford Crum, Mrs. Russell Seymour and Mrs. Robert Springer. Mrs. A. E. Kushin was hostess. Club activities will be resumed early in September with Mrs. Dale Uhlich serving as hostess.

Late May Marriage of Miss Quaintance Told

Public announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Virginia Quaintance and Paul Curren on May 25 in Greenup, Ky. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Quaintance, 497 West Fourth street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curren of Shelby.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Curren took a wedding trip to Florida, and they are now residing at the West Fourth street address. The bride attended Mansfield Senior high school, and Mr. Curren was graduated from Shelby high school. He is employed as a dental technician at the Mansfield Dental Laboratory.

Miss Judy Bean To Be Bride of Mr. Conklin

Announcement was made here today of the approaching marriage of Miss Judy Bean, daughter of Mrs. Harry M. Bean, Granville, to Harry Cave Conklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Conklin, 20 Dawson avenue. The couple will be married in a home ceremony at Granville on the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, Aug. 1. A dinner for members of the families and a few close friends will be served at the Granville Inn following the 6:30 p. m. ceremony.

Miss Bean attended Denison university and has been employed by the clerk of courts in Newark, while Mr. Conklin also attended Denison and is now connected with the Central National bank in Cleveland.

POSTPONE DANCE.

The regular dance for junior high school age students, which was scheduled at Johnny Appleseed Junior high school July 31, has been postponed to Aug. 7.

Informal Events Pep Up Lagging Social Interest

A breakfast party followed by a shower of miscellaneous gifts was held yesterday at 10 a. m. in honor of Miss Louise Wolfe, bride-elect of Edward Reaser, Ashland. Miss Louise Krause, Brinkerhoff avenue, was hostess to 10 guests.

The table was decorated with green and white appointments, and each place was marked with a tiny Japanese parasol and favors of miniature sprinkling cans. Mrs. Robert Bank, Ashland, was an out-of-town guest.

Miss Wolfe and Mr. Reaser will be married Aug. 10 at the St. Luke's Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. H. S. Garnes, pastor, officiating.

Beta Kappa Tau members were entertained last night when they attended a performance of the Madge Kinsey players, after which they went to the Mansfield-Leland hotel where refreshments were served. Hostesses were the Misses Rose Huck, Ann Schmidt, Holly Baker, Dorothy Harbaugh and Louise Enderle.

Miss Pauline Folmer conducted a brief business meeting and appointed the August party committee. Those who will serve are the Misses Alma Smith, Virginia Shafer, Marjorie Swanger and Virginia Thrush.

Dessert Party Honors Miss Evelyn Gongwer

A dessert course was served at three small tables last night when Mrs. Clayton Frank and Miss Ann Fogle entertained at the Fogel home, 52 Rowland avenue, in honor of Miss Evelyn Gongwer. Blue and white appointments were used, and each place was marked by a blue and white tally-place card.

Bridge and hearts were played with the prizes being presented to the honoree. Miss Gongwer, who will become the bride of Harold Worner at the Central Methodist church Aug. 18 at 2:30 p. m., was given a corsage to which blue and white ribbons were attached. These directed her to a shower of gifts.

SUMMER DOLDRUMS CAUSE SOCIAL SLUMP

Smaller Organizations Conduct Sessions: Plans for Outings Occupy Many as Temperatures Continue to Soar.

WITH all the promises of relief from the sultry weather turning out to be false alarms, a lethargic feeling has settled over all Mansfield, and many persons who have reputations for being most energetic souls have marked a future date on all their activities while they go off to the lake or mountains for relief, while a number of clubs—wearied with the prospects of planning anything for such hot afternoons and evenings completely suspended operations awaiting cooler weather.

As a result the social calendar has dwindled preceptibly, and we have a limited number of events to write about.

Members of the Soiree club met at the home of Mrs. Gary Balliett, Coolridge Heights, last night when plans were made to have a dinner at Scotty's followed by a theater party Aug. 8. The group also discussed arrangements for a picnic for members and guests to be held at Mohican State park, Aug. 18.

Contests were conducted and prizes awarded to Miss Marie Taylor and Miss Catherine Hager. Luncheon was served at the close of the games. The next regular meeting will be held with Miss Hagar with the date to be announced later.

Plans were made to hold open house at a Lake Erie resort the week-end of Aug. 3 and 4 last night when members of Sigma Kappa Gamma were entertained by Miss Vivian Walters with Miss Charlotte Brightbill assisting. A called meeting will be held next week at the city building to complete arrangements.

Following the business session the girls enjoyed dancing and refreshments were served. The next regular meeting, the date of which was not announced, will be with Miss Kathryn Landfair.

Tentative arrangements for a wiener roast were made yesterday when Mrs. John Kulka, Bowman street, entertained five members of the Cotton Jugglers club. Garden flowers decorated the refreshment table. Mrs. Helen Erndt, Vale avenue, will entertain Aug. 15.

* * *

All members of the Atlas club met for their annual summer dinner party last evening at Wickliffe Manor, Park avenue west. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Cecil Cramer and Mrs. Gray Adkins. Places were laid for 12 at two tables which were decorated with bouquets of summer flowers. The evening was spent socially and in playing cards. Prizes were won by Mrs. Martin Bricker and Mrs. Kenneth Donelson. The next meeting will be held Aug. 8 at the home of Mrs. Adkins, Ford avenue.

* * *

There were 35 members and children of the Jolly Lot club present yesterday for a noon picnic which was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Waddell, Fifth avenue. Mrs. H. H. Hoag was the associate hostess. Games were played during the afternoon with prizes going to Mrs. Pearl Miller, Mrs. Lloyd Ohler, Miss Mary Raleigh, and Mrs. V. E. Broach.

Plans were made for a picnic Aug. 28 at Middle park with Mrs. D. S. Johns, Mrs. A. Hostetter and Esther Ropp in charge of arrangements.

Two guests, Miss Jean Boals and Mrs. Walter Brindle, were present at the meeting of the Buena Vista club which was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Shirley Boals with 18 members and children in attendance. Mrs. L. F. Houk conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. Emil Hess invited the group to her home Aug. 22.

Games were played and prizes were won by Miss Alice Hiller, Mrs. Ray Hout, Mrs. J. P. Reed and Mrs. Eldon Harper. Refreshments were served at the close of play.

WE'RE GETTING OUT OF TOWN!

Miss Helen Kuneman Will Be Bride of Ferdinand Loykovich

TWENTY friends of Miss Helen Kuneman learned of her approaching marriage to Ferdinand Loykovich, during a party yesterday evening at the Women's club. The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. James Kuneman, and her sister, Mrs. M. J. Morton of Newcastle, Ind., gave the dessert-bridge.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 17 at 9:30 a. m. before the altar of St. Peter's Catholic church. Mrs. Morton will be her sister's only attendant, while James Jurgens will serve as the best man.

The guests were seated at one long table, centered with a bouquet of daisies and gysophila, for the dessert. Places were marked by miniature candelabra, and cards on the back revealed the nuptials.

Prizes in the diversion, which was played at five tables, were awarded to Mrs. Ray Hecht and Mrs. Wilbur Feigenbaum. Mrs. Fred Caston of Cleveland and Mrs. Nicholas Siclair of Galion were the out-of-town guests.

Miss Kuneman, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kuneman, 109 Wolfe avenue, is a graduate of St. Peter's high school and an employe of the Equitable Life Insurance company. Mr. Loykovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loyovich, 336 Lexington avenue, also is a graduate of St. Peter's high school. He is employed at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

Relatives Give Party Honoring November Bride

Mrs. Elsie Kneeland, 480 South Diamond street, and Miss Ruth Jaberg, aunt and cousin respectively of Mrs. Robert Jordan, the former Helen Louise Casey, entertained with a miscellaneous shower in the former's yard last night. The yard was decorated with colorful balloons and Japanese lanterns.

Bridge was in play at five tables with Mrs. Herbert Finlay, Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Samuel Roush, Miss Marian Casey and Miss Mary Taylor winning the prizes which they presented to Mrs. Jordan.

The table was decorated with a centerpiece of garden flowers and a miniature bride and groom, and individual nosegays were used as favors. The hostesses presented the honoree with a gift of linen.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Finlay, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Olive Miller, Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Harry Speck, Ashland, and Mrs. Fiehr Jaberg, Beach City.

Hot Sandwich Hearty Fare For Summer

By BETSY NEWMAN

A hot sandwich is another way to serve a hearty dish that is yet not too filling for summer appetites. We think of liver sausage as a cold sandwich filler or something for a cold platter, but try it this way and serve on the porch or out-of-doors for a different luncheon, dinner or supper dish.

Today's Menu.

Hot Liver Sausage Sandwiches
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Vanilla Ice Cream or
Berry Frappe
Coffee or Tea, Iced or Hot

* * *

Hot Liver Sausage Sandwich.

American Cheese Liver Sausage
Sliced Bread Melted Butter

Place a slice of cheese over a slice of bread and on top of that a one-half inch slice of liver sausage. Brush the sausage with melted butter and for good measure lay a strip of cheese dipped in cream over the top. Put the sandwich under the broiler until the cheese is toasted.

* * *

Vanilla Ice Cream.

1 cup top milk or coffee cream
1 teaspoon gelatin
1 cup whipping cream
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla

Put milk or thin cream in top part of double boiler, add sugar and salt, sprinkle gelatin on top and heat mixture to scalding over boiling water, stirring occasionally to dissolve gelatin and sugar. When they are dissolved, remove from heat and chill, then turn into freezing tray and freeze to mush. Chill small bowl and rotary beater in refrigerator and whip cream thick but not stiff. Turn first mixture into chilled bowl and whip until light and frothy, then fold in vanilla and whipped cream and return to freezing tray. Freeze without further stirring.

Berry Frappe.

1 quart raspberries or blackberries
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Wash berries well, drain and put into bowl. Sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice, crush and let stand several hours. Force through strainer to remove seeds and turn into ice compartments of refrigerator to freeze, stirring a few times during process.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"If you could tell me just what it is you mean—what you want of her—" I answered.

"It is simply this," he said. "I should like to have Queen Olga come here, and have her know that her emeralds have been found. But there are two people near her whose discretion I do not trust, her daughter, and Philip Veritzen. Would she be apt to betray her knowledge wittingly or unwittingly to either of them?"

"Unwittingly, no," I told him "She is the most poised person I know. She is never off guard. If she decided to keep a secret, no slightest word or action would betray her knowledge of it."

"That is my opinion of her," he agreed. "But what about her willingly keeping a secret from either of those two?"

"If she promised to keep it, she would," I said confidently.

"But if she knew it first—" he said, and stopped.

Every romantic and generous impulse within me was clamoring to rush to Queen Olga with this glorious news which I knew would be an instant surcease from the humiliation which was obsessing her—that she must go a penniless bride to Philip Veritzen. But I knew that paramount to every other consideration was my father's intended capture of Jack Leslie. Everything else must wait on that. So I considered the question warily from every angle before I answered.

"I am sure of two things," I said, at last.

"Name them!" my father countered quickly.

"If Olga could be told there was a secret she should know, but that if she accepted its telling, she must not betray it either to Philip of Olina, then she would be able to make a choice with her eyes open. And—if she once promised to keep the secret, even from them you would be perfectly safe.

Lillian nodded sapiently.

"I agree with Madge," she said. "The proverbial wild horses wouldn't have even a look-see with her."

My father held my glance steadily with his own.

"And the second thing of which you are sure?" he prompted.

"You must guard against anything Olina may do," I answered. "While her mother is in here, some one must watch Olina every second, to see that she does not get within listening distance of your colloquay with her."

"Give me that job, Chief!" Lillian pleaded. "If there's anything I'd like better than riding herd on that little—don't get me excited, or I might forget the way me mudder brung me up."

The corners of my father's lips quirked into the smile which he generally accords Lillian's nonsense.

"You are the one best fitted for it," he said, "but I had thought you might want to see the return of the jewels in which you have played so splendid a role."

Lillian swept him a low bow, and as she straightened herself her eyes were sparkling with mischief.

"I had thought perhaps Mary—" my father began doubtfully, but Lillian struck in swiftly as he paused.

"Don't send a gal to do a woman's work!" she advised sagely. "Mary's mighty resourceful, but she's Olina's own age, and outside of a knock-down-and-drag-out-fight, which I grant you Mary is perfectly capable of pulling, she wouldn't have a chance if Olina decided to walk out on her. And as for seeing the return of the jewels, it will be a beautiful and romantic spectacle, no doubt, but it was a heap more fun playing a small part in getting them back here safely. And seeing that little Olina doesn't have a chance to snoop and run to her future step-papa with the news, will be the best fun of all. Don't deprive me of that, I beg of you."

Galion

GALION —Another July wedding to be announced is that of Evelyn M. Mackey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mackey of South street to Kenneth H. Badgley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Badgley of Fairview avenue. The couple was married Saturday, July 13, at Covington, Kentucky. Rev. Victor Selle read the ceremony in the parsonage of the Lutheran church.

The bride wore a navy blue frock with white accessories for her wedding. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Before they returned to Galion to make their home at 537 Fairview avenue, they took a short wedding trip through Kentucky and Southern Ohio.

Both Mr. Badgley and his bride were graduated from Galion high school, she with the class of 1937, and Mr. Badgley in 1935.

Mrs. Badgley is employed in the offices of the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company, and her husband is employed at the Stratbury Manufacturing company.

UNDERGROUND AGENTS IN THE GARDEN

It may surprise you to know that there is a well-organized group of underground agents busy at work in this country—in our gardens. They are properly named "root lice," but are more scientifically known as "root aphids." Frequently when centaureas, asters or chrysanthemums show lack of vigor, become dwarfed and the foliage turns yellow, it will be found that it is due to the underground work of root aphids.

As shown in the Garden-graph, root aphids are small, soft-bodied lice which cluster along the roots or near the crown of a plant. Some root lice are whitish gray in color, others are a bluish-green.

There are several methods of controlling this pest. One involves the spreading of a half-inch layer of ground tobacco about the plants, after which it should be cultivated into the soil. Another method is to cup the soil about the base of each plant, and then pour a cupful of nicotine solution into each depression.

"The Authority on Authorities"

READ SHORT LEADS, TOO

MANY players complain that they have difficulty to read the cards the way that the stars do. That, of course, is the main difference in play between the best and the average performers. But a bit of practice in developing habits of mind—constantly asking such questions as "Why did he do that?" or "Why didn't he do so-and-so?"—can turn a fair player into a fine one.

When West led his Spade 9, East had a chance to do some very definite reading of the cards. That lead was, of course, the top of West's holding. Consequently the K, Q and 10 were all in the declarer's hand. East also could read that his partner held three cards, for if he had possessed only two, South would have held four. In that event South would have bid spades on the second round instead of 2-No Trumps.

With his study of that and other suits completed, East let the dummy's J pass, playing the encouraging 8. Declarer then led a diamond to West's K, and the latter fired a second spade, the 6, on which East completed his come-on signal with the 2. When the declarer then led a second diamond, to West's A, the last spade was led to the A and East then cashed two little spades for the setting trick.

If East had played his spade A on either the first or second trick of the suit, the declarer could have made game without trouble, getting two tricks in spades, three in diamonds, two in clubs and two in hearts.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, July 27.

THE ASTRAL configurations for this day are conflicting and perplexing. There are rather peculiar mental problems and social contradictions, but with the mentality receiving certain very reliable stabilizing rays, it is probable that all dubious situations may be safely adjusted and treacherous predicaments ironed out happily. But keep alert to schemes and equivocal entanglements in business as well as the private associations.

Those whose birthday it is may find their year interesting and intriguing because of certain peculiar, subtle and entangling alliances which may challenge their integrity, discernment and sound judgment. While the situation is not exactly sinister, it will take finesse and discretion to avoid duplicity, snares and pitfalls in both business and private relations. Still there is a dependable balance in mental adjustments which may result in "turning imps (of annoyance and apprehension) into angels," pleasant and gracious.

A child born on this day may have a well balanced mentality, with much sound judgment and shrewdness. It will be persistent and dogged, probably provoking the hostility of its associates and superiors.

Crisp—fresh—nut-sweet!

Who says ALL-BRAN is America's dependable laxative cereal? The one million people who choose it for breakfast, or some other meal, every day. On the average day, one million servings!

But that's only part of the story. For 20 years Americans have looked to ALL-BRAN as an answer to the problem of common constipation (due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet).

The test of science

Research scientists—both nutritionists and medical men in famous universities—have proven ALL-BRAN'S effectiveness over and over again. Millions of people have used it. A product has to be good to be the outstanding leader for 20 years, and to be still growing in sales. Look for the red Kellogg signature on the package. ALL-BRAN is made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Survey Shows Democratic Revolt Not Yet Serious

CONGRESSMEN SEEK WAY TO RE-ELECTION

Private Criticism of Third Term Generally Linked to Support Pledge.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — The first week of President Roosevelt's third term campaign has failed to develop any really formidable revolt against him within the Democratic party, a survey disclosed today.

There is widespread, though private, opposition among Democratic senators and representatives to the third term but this private criticism is generally linked to public pledges of support for Roosevelt.

The fact is that all the house Democrats and 25 senate Democrats come up for reelection this year—a fact that goes far toward blocking a public revolt within the Democratic party.

This is the situation, as of the moment. Some observers say it is possible that the president's desire for an unprecedented peace-time conscription bill—a measure that may give him power to allot industrial tasks to citizens as well as to draft men into the army—will provoke a Democratic revolt. If a real battle is staged in the senate, it may raise a "war or peace" issue that will split the Democratic party, —even to the extent of forcing congressional Democrats to oppose Mr. Roosevelt's reelection.

Thus far, the Democratic revolt against the third term is limited largely to former congressmen and former office-holders, who broke with the president in the past.

Men like former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, and former Representative John O'Connor, of New York, are now leading the intra-party rebellion but without success among present office-holders. Time may change this picture.

Both Reed and O'Connor have frequently tried to stage revolts against the New Deal but without particular success. Time will show whether they have better success in fighting Mr. Roosevelt's third term ambitions. But, for the moment, they are fighting without the public aid of congressional Democrats, many of whom may "take a walk" but as yet refuse to "endorse Willkie."

Willkie Works On Elwood Address

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(U.P.)—Wendell L. Willkie hoped today to carry the west on the basis of a two-day tour of three representative states.

He planned a week-end of rest, but will work on his Elwood, Ind., acceptance speech.

Last night, he conferred with three Indianans on details of the Elwood ceremony on Aug. 17, and today he sees J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, who was one of the managers of Thomas E. Dewey's campaign for the nomination. The Hoosiers were Rep. Charles A. Halleck, state Chairman Arch N. Bobbitt, and Homer E. Capehart, manufacturer.

For a man who is on vacation, Willkie has accepted a particularly rugged schedule of long, and brief, speeches, bruising hand-shaking receptions and personal appearances in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah.

Cultists Expect 'Rays of Light' To Guide Them

LOS ANGELES —(INS)— Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, who says she is the reincarnation of Joan of Arc, and her son, Edona Eros (Donald) Ballard, co-leaders of the vast "I Am" Cult, were at liberty on $5,000 bail today following indictment by the federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud.

Twenty-two other members and officials of the religious organization also were indicted.

They were charged with using the mails to defraud followers of the cult. Federal officials declared the defendants have taken in at least $3,000,000 since the organization was founded 10 years ago.

Mrs. Ballard and her son, blithely affirmed their confidence that "rays of light" furnished by the "ascended masters," with whom they claim to carry on a supernatural association, will see them through their trouble.

KILLED BY TRAIN

ELYRIA — (AP)—While walking along New York Central railroad tracks near the Lorain county infirmary, John Hedegas, 65, an inmate for nine years, was killed by a freight train last night.

Up and Down THE STREET

Herb Uhlich, of the Page Dairy store on Springmill street has worked out a plan to raise money for the annual party of the "gang" that holds forth there. Heretofore, all of the members have contributed the money outright, but this year he started a lending fund of $1 and charged "usury" rates. Every member of the gang who borrowed the dollar, even for a couple of days, paid 10 cents for the use of it. And when there were several dollars to lend, they still paid 10 cents on the dollar. This was started last February and they have almost $15 in the fund now. They usually hold their parties about Christmas.

State Highway Patrolman J. A. Gosling was looking for a good cook today. The reason: Gosling went frog hunting last night—maybe we should have said early this morning, it was about 3 a. m., and he came home with several nice specimens. Being a bachelor and not adapted to the culinary arts he's now seeking some way to get them done to the correct turn for eating.

Although the weather has been too hot to give much thought to football, and it's still some time until the football season gets under way at Senior high school, the high school band is already preparing for its part during the coming season. As a part of its weekly summer rehearsals, each Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., the band spends part of the time in marching maneuvers, which it expects to present at grid games this fall.

The Mansfield Braves, fighting to hold third place in the Ohio State league championship race, are hoping their new mascot will bring them luck. A stray pup wondered over to the Braves' dugout recently at the Fairground and the Brave players have named it Big Chief. Big Chief will accompany the club on all its road games.

BEAUTY COST

Objections Mount to $16 Wage For Cosmetologists.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Mounting objection to a $16 minimum weekly wage for cosmetologists faced George A. Strain, state director of industrial relations, today as he continued a public hearing on the salary base recommended by a nine-member board.

Beauty school spokesmen testified before Strain yesterday that application of the board's proposal to students, as an alternative to discontinuing fees for their work, would increase tuition costs beyond the means of the average applicant.

Independent beauty shop operators have contended that the recommended wage would force them from business.

On the other hand, H. F. Hildebrandt, educational director of the Ohio State Federation of Labor, testified that the industry paid weekly wages as low as $3, and asserted that the board's recommendations were not sufficiently stringent to eliminate "sweatshop conditions."

TOLD OF DEATH OF L. H. FETTER

Mansfield Friends Informed Of Demise of Ex-Resident.

Mansfield friends have received word of the death in Detroit several days ago of Lawrence H. Fetter, who lived in Mansfield for a number of years and was active in affairs of the American Legion and the 40 et 8.

Mr. Fetter was cost accountant at the Humphr s Manufacturing company for a number of years, leaving here in 1929 to accept a position in Detroit. He served as adjutant of McVey Post, American Legion, for four years, and was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church.

His mother died in May, and his only survivors were two sisters. The body was taken to the Catholic cemetery at Carey, O., for burial.

CIO UNCERTAIN ON OHIO RACE

Neither Bricker Nor Davey Favored by Labor Union For Governorship.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—The Congress of Industrial Organizations, one of the most aggressive and controversial factors in the 1936 and 1938 political campaigns, may content itself with a passive role in Ohio this year so far as the state election is concerned.

That possibility was suggested as a likely one by an officer of the state C. I. O. in the face of reports that John Owens, of Cambridge, president of the United Mine Workers for this district and C. I. O. Ohio chairman, is again considering an independent candidacy for governor.

The indecision manifested by the C. I. O. labor wing and its political instrument, Labor's Non-Partisan League, is shown by the fact that dates have not been set for the state convention when matters of policy will be passed upon. The meeting may be held during August. The organization's officers appear uncertain whether to put much credence in the reports of Owens' possible candidacy. It has been recalled that these same reports circulated about this time during the 1938 campaign and that nothing came of them. A union official with contacts in the exectuive counsels of the C. I. O. family admitted that as an organization it had not determined what to do in the election campaign—if anything.

Former Gov. Martin L. Davey, who is again the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, is anathema to the C. I. O. which also has displayed its dislike for Governor Bricker, the Republican incumbent, on several occasions. The attacks on Davey, however, are violent whereas apparently some labor leaders in the C. I. O. camp have decided that it would gain nothing to belabor Bricker, who "after all," as one officer said, "hasn't called out the troops against us." Davey used troops in the "Little Steel" strike of 1937 and the C. I. O. never has forgiven.

OHIO FUEL EXECUTIVES TALK SHOP, GETS 'PREVIEW' OF 1941

Shop talks and a preview of the 1941 plans were on the program today at the monthly meeting of Ohio Fuel Gas executives of this district, held at Westbrook Country club.

The two-day meeting was scheduled to close this afternoon, after a series of talks by executives. The entire day was given over to business. C. I. Weaver, president of the company, presided over the meeting. John M. Rutherford, talked on statistics of the business and Frank Remy discussed new business activities.

The research surveys that are conducted by the Ohio Fuel Gas engineers were reported to the group by K. E. Gallant. Two of the district managers, I. A. Ludwig of Toledo, and Harry Baker of Cambridge, told of methods of getting the greatest good from the home service departments that are maintained by the Gas company all over their territory.

Representatives at the meeting were given a peep at the 1941 food shows which their company will stage in many cities. Hulda Ungersicht of Columbus, a home economist, told them how the new food institutes would be conducted.

After the luncheon at the Country club this noon, Alan Tappan, vice president of the Tappan Stove company, was scheduled to speak on the gas range industry. Other speakers this afternoon were Dolly S. Deeds, home economist for Tappan's; O. J. Hagen, Columbus, who talked on a house heating campaign which will be staged in the near future, James Scanlon on rate regulation; and Emil Linek, on unemployment insurance. E. M. Tharp, vice president and general manager of the company, summed up the reports of meeting at the conclusion of the afternoon session.

Yesterday the district managers, sales managers and home economists of the Gas company were guests of the Tappan Stove company for the first day of the meeting. There was golf and tennis yesterday afternoon and a dinner last night at the club house. The evening was given over to a floor show and cards.

FOURTH CONCERT

Parks Association Presents New Program Sunday.

The fourth in a series of weekly outdoor summer concerts will be held at 8 p. m. Sunday at North Lake park, under sponsorship of the park association.

Sunday's concert will feature the music of the Serenaders, musical group from Smart's studio, and under the direction of Eugene Smart.

Soloists for the evening will be Rose Vetrano, George Knackstedt and Femme Wright. Russell Doehla will also act as a soloist and will announce the numbers.

The largest crowd to attend a concert this summer, heard last Sunday's program.

Dutch Crew Refuses to Leave Chicago Port

SEAMEN REFUSE TO LEAVE UNTIL THEY GET ARMS

Declare They Demand Chance to 'Shoot Back' In Event They Are Attacked.

(By United Press)

CHICAGO—The Dutch Orange line freighter Prins Willem III was under coast guard surveillance in the Chicago harbor today because 17 members of the crew refused to sail the ship to an unnamed foreign port without arms.

The seamen remained aboard the vessel and agreed to keep her trim as long as she remained in neutral waters. None of the crew of 19 was permitted to leave ship because they are citizens of Holland and are without documents which would permit them to land. There was no disturbance and no formal action after the men presented their demands to Capt. W. P. Helsdingen.

"We don't want to be shot at unless we can shoot back," a spokesman for the crew was reported to have told the captain.

Capt. Helsdingden consulted Fred C. Schlotfeldt, director of immigration, who immediately issued a detainer order against the crew until further decision by immigration authorities at Washington.

Schlotfeldt said any possible action against the crew would be complicated by determination of a detaination to which the men could be deported and organization of a crew for the Prins Willem. Because the ship left Europe May 9, the crew members are regarded as citizens of Holland, a country now under control of Germany.

Should the crew be removed from the ship, Capt. Helsdingden would be unable to proceed because American seamen are forbidden to travel to ports of belligerents.

F. C. EPLEY DIES

Life-Long Resident of County Succumbs at Age 69.

Frank C. Epley, 69, of 7 South Adams street, died Thursday at General hospital following a lingering illness. Born near Mansfield, July 6, 1871, he spent his entire life in this vicinity.

Surviving are his wife, Olive; a son, Walter of Mansfield; a brother, William of Crestline and a granddaughter. He was a member of Mansfield lodge No. 13 Loyal Order of Moose.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday in charge of Rev. Grover E. Swoyer of the First Lutheran church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

PENSIONERS IN SESSION HERE

Temporary Officer Chosen for Ohio Society Unit.

A temporary Richland county branch of the Ohio Society of Old Age Pensioners was set up at a meeting of about 300 old age pensioners yesterday afternoon at Eagles hall.

The meeting was in charge of Raymond J. Jeffreys, formerly the State Division of Aid for the Aged, who also addressed the gathering. Temporary officers were also appointed.

Permanent officers will be elected at a special meeting to be called within the next two weeks. T. J. Johnson, of Columbus, president of the Ohio Society of Old Age Pensioners, also attended the meeting and explained the nature and purposes of the organization.

DEALERS MEET

Chevrolet Dealers Discuss Plans for Future Sales.

In an afternoon meeting at the Leland hotel yesterday 40 Chevrolet dealers from the Cleveland zone discussed merchandizing plans for new and used cars for the next two months.

M. K. Metzler, of the Mohican Chevrolet company, was host at the meeting which was presided over by A. J. McAllister assistant zone manager. Hugh Ward, Mansfield district manager, and J. E. Johnson, zone manager, accessories division, were the speakers.

BROADCAST SET

A number of Mansfielders today were making arrangements to attend the special Bob Crosby broadcast from Cedar Point next Thursday night.

Scheduled for 6:30 p. m. the Dixieland band's "Music Shop" program will be rebroadcast at 9 as part of the regular dancing session. Admission cards to the broadcast may be obtained by writing the management at Cedar Point. The broadcast concludes Crosby's week's engagement at the Point.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

You Meet Such Curious Characters.

Every now and then Broadway takes over a word, colloquializes it, and works it to the bone. Currently, the word is "character."

Ask a chorus girl whom she went out with the night before and chances are she'll reply, "Oh, some character." Inquire of a departing Lindyite whither he is bound, and he'll probably say, "I have to meet a character at Moore's."

The illusion covers a lot of ground, and there are few colorful citizens in the Time Square neighborhood who have escaped the hazy, Saroyanesque but pictorial connotation which "character" conjures.

The theatrical set even has a gesture—a pseudo-sophistiated fillip of the hand with index finger extended toward the person in question—which is the new local high sign. It means: "A character!" with the exclamation point.

Broadway and its tributaries have, of course, had characters for years before the word became synonymous with anyone from Noel Coward to Lois Andrew. Some of them are amusing, some pathetic—but all of them back the dizzy color and unreasoning fascination of the Great White Way itself.

The best known one, I suppose, is Broadway Rose. I don't know her other name—I don't know anyone who does. I guess nobody ever asked her. She is a weird, before-the-fairy-godmother Cinderella, a pavement-loiterer with a nocturnal hankering for celebrities. She is on the sidewalk at every theatrical opening, every important cinema first night, every supper club premiere, and between those occasions she haunts the front of Reuben's or Lindy's, dank of hair and crooked teeth, waiting for celebrities. She has a peculiar conception of the gradation of the famous.

Toscanini is a bum. Abé Lyman is a genius. Katharine Cornell is a nobody. Lana Turner is a great actress. Rose wants to marry Lyman, her all time favorite of all the greats who read their morning papers in Reuben's. She announced early the other morning on the Broadway sidewalk that she was giving up all her other marital possibilities in favor of Lyman.

* * *

In quite a different vein, but still "characters," are Mr. and Mrs. Katzenberg, who are as much a part of first nights as Lucius Beebe, George Jean Nathan and Richard Watts' mother. They go to unprecedented pains to follow all the openings, to get the best seats, and sit through turkeys that have the working press gnashing its typewriter keys.

Almost as ubiquitous are the J. F. Sherlocks, a wonderful white-haired couple, who catch every important night club and hotel room opening and dance rhumbas, waltzes and fox trots with the indefatigability of Rogers and Astaire.

Sam Gross is, professionally, a taxi-driver, vicariously, a Broadway columnist. For years he has hacked in front of the drug store at 51st street and 7th avenue—an open-all-night hangout for "characters"—and early in the a. m. he drives the columnists home and takes their copy down to the newspaper offices. Usually, he gives them items—tidbits eavedropped by Sam as he chauffeurs the notables from Stork to El Morocco.

Some of the citizens who know him like to tease him; they ride his cab and say to each other (ostensibly unconscious of Sam's cocked ear): "Did you hear that Marlene Dietrich just came into LaConga with all her teeth pulled out?" Sam can't wait to report it to one of the item-gatherers.

Phil Goldfarb, the blind singer who patrols the Roxy area and the sidewalks around musical comedy theaters, playing his accordion, has an acute business sense; he always plays tunes from the shows in front of which he works. . . . Pat, the Brooklyn-bred stage-doorman (last heard of at the Casa Manana) twirls a rope constantly, amazes onlookers with his lariat tricks, and lassoes those who try to brush past him without the necessary formalities. . . .

"Queenie" is the Stem's most fabulous autograph hunter. Usually, she just wants Harry Richman's autograph. She sends him flowers and expensive presents, carries his picture pasted in the mirror of her vanity case, and stands in rain, sleet or snow outside the Versailles when he plays there, hoping for a glimpse of him. She has been following him around for 15 years.

One of the most colorful of the Street's authentic characters is Sergeant Mike Donaldson, the great World war hero, who was neglected by the government for years because he signed away his rights to a pension in a burst of patriotism right after the war.

But the racket guys, almost always ready to respect a citizen with enough nerve to wipe out a German machine gun nest, staked him to food money and bought him a suit or an overcoat every now and then.

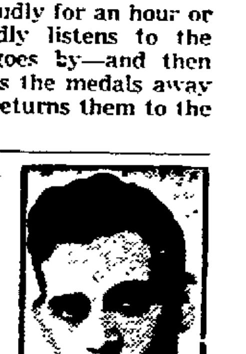
Now he's in conversational demand up and down the Rialto, because war is a timely topic, and it's Mike's best over-the-table subject. So you can see him any evening, holding forth around 50th and Broadway, telling the horseplayers how he defeated the Germans the last time.

One story about old Mike is enough to illustrate the emptiness of the glories of war. As the most thoroughly decorated A. E. F. veteran, Mike is always called upon to march in full regalia at presidential inaugurations, Memorial Day parades, and similar occasions. So the army always furnishes him with a uniform.

And what of the medals for extraordinary heroism?

Well, they're in "hock" at a midtown hotel, where Mike owes a bill, so the army sends an officer to sign for them whenever Mike is to appear in a parade. The hero wears them proudly for an hour or two, and proudly listens to the cheers as he goes by—and then the officer takes the medals away from him, and returns them to the hotel safe.

Hollywood Speaks---



—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It's the little things that tell the tale. Like the last rose of summer, the robin in the snow, the look in the eye of a skid-row bum just before he empties the vial into the cuppa cawfee. Like the preview notice that came today.

It was a simple card white, printed in black. It said such and such a picture would be shown at one of the picture houses and would I come?

In the course of years in Hollywood you get hardened to preview notices. After a month or so, you take 'em as they come, and never bat an eye. And how they used to come!

Only a while ago this household decided what to do with the very elegant silk topper that arrived one day to tell us RKO was showing a picture. The title was "Top Hat." Get it? Oh, it's nothing. You get so you get it in a flash. "Top Hat"- and a top hat. Amazing! And nice too—only it presented a problem.

Not that I've anything against top-hat wearers, but I'm not one of 'em. Fact is, I don't know anybody who wears a top-hat—if he can get out of it. That's not counting the movie stars, who are different. Wearing top hats is part of the price they pay.

So there we were with a top hat. It felt sort of plushy to be "a top hat family," like needing two garbage cans or throwing away a new car because it ran out of gas. We could use it as a flower container, or let the baby bounce on it, or amaze our friends—but all the while it was usurping valuable storage space. So when a friend came to town from a top-hat-wearing country we took advantage of his good nature and now we no longer worry about it.

Once a preview notice came by air mail all the way from Culver City. To let us know that "Test Pilot" was coming up, M-G-M inaugurated a one-flight-only "shortest airline in the world." It made a nice stamp-collector's item.

The "Robin Hood" notice was an illuminated scroll, delivered—as I recall it—by one of Robin's merry men, in full costume, who amazed the neighbors no end. "Room Service" brought just that—the usual items glued to a tray,

Altas Take Over 2nd Place In 'Y' League

A 10 to 8 victory over the All-State Freights sent the Alta Lumbers soaring into second place in the Y. M. C. A. Independent league yesterday as the two teams tangled at Liberty park.

* * *

McKinley was on the mound for the Altas, while Wallace toed the rubber for the Freights. McKinley held the Freighters to eight hits.

Boyd, Alta shortstop, and Lesch, Freight catcher, led their teammates in the batter's box, each getting a round trip ticket. Boyd also chalked up a single and a double.

The Mansfield Wreckers and the Safety Cabs scored impressive wins in the other Independent league games. The Wreckers outslugged the Tavernettes, 19 to 5, while the Cabbies smothered the Wescos 11 to 1.

Stickler took over the mound duties for the Wreckers and Fisher was on the hill for the Cabbies. The Safety Cab's win over the Wescos brought the team's total to three straight games.

Two No-Hitters Hurled In Knot-Hole Loop Session

NO-HITTERS by Gene Hetler of the Indians and Fox of the league-leading Giants topped yesterday's session of the Friendly House Knot-Hole loop at the Fairground.

Hetler led the Indians to a 10 to 1 victory over the Yankees, while Fox tossed the Giants to a 7 to 5 win over the Red Sox. Hetler struck out eight and Fox 6.

* * *

Fox's victory yesterday brought the Giants' total to six straight victories against no losses in the race for the Knot-Hole pennant.

* * *

Thodosoff of the Giants and Nemath of the Indians made it tough for the opposing pitchers. Thodosoff smacked out a homer and a single out of two trips to the platter, while Nemath belted out two homers out of three journies.

* * *

Due to the Fair next week there will be no Knot-Hole loop games at the Fairground next week. Play will resume August 5th.

Dayton Wings Win Thriller

Score 11-Inning Victory Over Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH —(AP)— You're apt to find your color most anywhere in the mid-Atlantic League.

Last night it was the Dayton Wings who touched off the fireworks and took an 11 inning, 8 to 6 victory from the Portsmouth Red Birds despite the absence of three players banished from the field for uninhibited protests of Umpire Gomer James' decisions.

* * *

James shunted Spud Nachand to the showers peaceably in the seventh, but had to call police to evict Manager Andy Cohen and Como Cottelle in the 10th. A wild pitch by the Birds' Fred Schmidt gave Dayton the brace of winning runs.

* * *

Charleston and Youngstown split a doubleheader, the Senators snagging the seven-inning opener 6 to 3, but yielding to the Browns 2 to 0 in the finale.

* * *

Three Canton pitchers walked 12 batters and gave up 10 hits as the Akron Yankees romped to a 19 to 8 victory. Steve Souchock, Akron first sacker, hit a homer and a triple, drove in seven runs and scored four himself.

Fishing Prospects In Area Look Good

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Good prospects for week end fishing were reported by the state conservation and natural resources division today, with muskellunge biting in the Wills Creek dam area of Coshocton county, walleyed pike in Ashtabula county's Pymatuning lake, and sand pike, white bass and perch rising readily in Lake Erie.

* * *

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters, meanwhile, announced that Ohio would receive for its 1941 wild game restoration and conservation program $102,679 in federal funds —more than the combined allocations of 1939 and 1940.

* * *

The grant, representing Ohio's share of an excise tax on arms and ammunitions, is to be augmented by nearly $26,000 in state funds for purchase and development of wildlife areas.

American League Amazed at Sudden Surge of White Sox; Boston Loses.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

STRANGE THINGS are happening in the American league, but not the least surprising is the sudden surge of the Chicago White Sox, who have won seven games in a row.

Jimmy Dykes has been something of a magician with skimpy material for years, but the way he has his club cruising now rates with his best tricks, except that Jimmy hasn't done any playing himself—yet.

* * *

Now the Sox are within a game of the first division and they'll have a chance to move right into the upper story if they can conquer the New York Yankees in their series this week-end.

The secret is that the Sox haven't made less than 11 hits in any game during their present winning string. That was their total in beating the Boston Red Sox 6-4 yesterday.

The Detroit Tigers built their American league lead back to a game and a half as the Cleveland Indians lost.

The Tigers were outhit by the Washington Senators 9-8, but triumphed 5-2 with the help of three Washington errors. The Indians had won five games in a row before folding in front of the Philadelphia Athletics 7-6.

New York's Yankees came out of a five-game losing streak with a wild 13-8 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a 28-hit ball game. Red Ruffing went the route for his ninth victory, giving up a dozen hits. Joe Gordon hit two home runs.

The National league program was a mere two games, with the Pittsburgh Pirates putting the New York Giants through a 2-1 wringer in one and the Chicago Cubs crushing the Boston Bees 8-4 in the other.

Truett (Rip) Sewell was the hero of Pittsburgh's victory, the seventh of the season against two losses for the redhead.

* * *

The game at Boston was climaxed by a triple play, the second in the big leagues in two weeks but the first of the year in the National league. The Bees maneuvered it in the eighth inning, but the game already was gone.

Lajoie Favors Headguards

Says Helmet Shouldn't Interfere With Batting.

CLEVELAND—(INS)—From the ranks of baseball's retired immortals, Napoleon Lajoie declared that "It's better to wear a helmet than to be carried away on a stretcher."

Lajoie, living in near-seclusion at his white frame home on Lake Erie's shore, 25 miles east of Cleveland, declared that a helmet should not interfere with anybody's batting average.

"Frank Chance," he remarked, "was hit so many times, I think 29 times, that he finally became hard of hearing."

He firmly believes that they ought to make something to stop the ball from hurting everybody, especially for night baseball. It is bad enough to face Bob Feller's fast ball in the daytime, he argued, and it is worse to have to stand up against him at night.

4-YEAR-OLD COPS RICH GOLDSMITH MAID STAKE

PAWTUCKET, R. I. —(INS)— Spud Hanover, 4-year-old from the stables of E. Roland Harriman, today had won the richest stake of his career, the $3,325 Goldsmith Maid stake. Spud Hanover won in straight heats and was timed at 2:04½ and 2:06¼.

Pioneer Hanover showed the fastest time of the Grand Circuit meeting here so far, 2:02¼, to win the third division pace.

Indians Seek Revenge Against Washington

CLEVELAND (AP) The Cleveland Indians started a score-settling stretch today as Washington—the club that shunted them into a six-game losing streak on their last eastern trip came to town.

* * *

Bob Feller forgot about a cracked tooth long enough to take the mound in the opener of a four-game series with the Nats. He was opposed by Rene Monteagudo, Cuban southpaw. Feller, hit on the jaw by a sand-lotter's throw, will see his dentist tomorrow for extraction of the tooth.

The Indians worked desperately to catch up with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday after spotting them seven runs in five innings, and just missed the A's winning 7 to 6. It was Mel Harder's sixth defeat against as many victories, and it dropped the Tribe a game and a half behind the first place Detroit Tigers.

Harder yielded seven hits and four runs before Johnny Allen replaced him in the fifth with one out and two men on bases. Jawin' John walked three men and allowed a single, enabling the A's to score three more runs in that frame.

While Philadelphia reached two Indian hurlers for a total of 11 safe blows, the Tribe collected 10 off Lee (Buck) Ross who humbled the home club for the third time.

* * *

Lou Boudreau, who contributed two doubles and a single, and Roy Weatherly, with a double and a single, led the Cleveland attack.

Millers Blast Toledo Hens

Take Both Games of Dobleheader.

As Wright, the slugging Minneapolis outfielder, is having quite a time this season making himself Public Enemy No. 1 in the eyes of American Association pitchers.

* * *

Leading the league in home runs, total bases and runs batted in, Wright demonstrated his talents again last night. After the Millers had beaten Toledo in the opener, 6 to 1, Wright personally accounted for victory in the second game.

* * *

He homered with two on base in the first inning and socked another with one on in the third to give the Millers a 5 to 4 victory in a five-inning affair halted by the curfew rule.

The double victory enabled Minneapolis to reduce Kansas City's lead to four games and a half. The Blues played only one game, defeating Louisville 4 to 1.

In another double header, Columbus and St. Paul broke even. The Red Birds took the opener, 9 to 1, but St. Paul won the second, 4 to 1.

THEATERS

Goddard and Hope.

The two stars of "The Cat and The Canary" are teamed again in the hilarious mystery thriller, "The Ghost Breakers," which will be presented at the Ohio tomorrow. Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard are again subjected to blood-curdling thrills in this story of spooks and zombies. Richard Carlson plays the menace. Others in the cast are Paul Lukas, Anthony Quinn and Willie Best. The picture has won "rave" reviews for its comedy element.

Turns to Comedy.

Olivia deHavilland turned from her distinguished performance in "Gone With The Wind" to play modern comedy in "My Love Came Back," which will be one of the new features at the Madison tomorrow and the first of the week. Jeffrey Lynn of "All This and Heaven Too" plays opposite her and in the comedy cast are Eddie Albert, Jane Wyman and Charles Winninger. A Nick Carter detective thriller, "Phantom Raiders," is also booked. Walter Pidgeon and Florence Rice head the cast.

Action in Panhandle.

The days when the Panhandle was abandoned by law abiding Texans and became a No Man's Land for all forms of outlawry inspired the current episode of the Three Mesquiteers. "Rocky Mountain Rangers" has Bob Livingston, Raymond Hatton and Duncan Renaldo as the three saddle buddies. The second feature at the Ritz is "Slightly Honorable," with Pat O'Brien, Edward Arnold, Ruth Terry and Broderick Crawford. It deals with one man who thought the world was his oyster and another who thought women were his career.

Hollywood Secrets.

Beautiful girls pour into Hollywood daily seeking a career, but only one out of 500 find it. What happens to the others is the theme of "Secrets of A Model" which is a feature at the Park the last half of the week. On the same bill is "The Man In The Iron Mask," one of the many thrilling and dramatic episodes in the history of France. It is Dumas' story of the twin heirs to the throne and the beautiful woman who loved one but married the other. Joan Bennett and Louis Hayward are featured.

"Stage to Chino."

How a resourceful postal inspector defeats the efforts of a group of criminals to take over a stagecoach line in the stirring 'Eighties, is told in "Stage To Chino", starring George O'Brien. Virginia Vale provides romance. Peggy Moran and Johnny Downs are the youthful sweethearts of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby," in which a gangster kidnaps a song writer and holds him while the latter turns out romantic ballads for the gangster's girl friend. These two films are on the bill at the Majestic today and Saturday.
